Goldfine Tells of 43 Calls to Adams

Talks Covered 6-Month Period
He Testifies at House Quiz

Washington — (AP) — Bernard Goldfine testified today he made 43 telephone calls to presidential aide Sherman Adams in a recent 6-month period.

In explanation, the Boston millionaire told house investigators that Adams is "one of my best friends... and a friend you call whenever you see fit."

Goldfine said too that sometimes the calls were on such matters as tariff regulations which were of interest to his textile firms.

Several Days on Stand

It was Goldfine's seventh day of testimony before the house subcommittee digging into charges that his business interests have received favored treatment from federal regulatory agencies because of his friendship with Adams.

Goldfine and Adams have denied any preferential treatment, but have told of gifts exchanged between them.

Goldfine refused today to say whether he treated gifts to personal friends, other than Adams, as business expenses on his income tax returns. He has acknowledged chalking off favors to Adams as business costs.

Goldfine blamed that on his accountants. He and Adams both swore they exchanged gifts just as friends.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) indicated that once the subcommittee finishes with the 67-year-old Goldfine it will go into a textile contract the army had with a mill in New Hampshire. Adams was once governor of that state.

Harris said Goldfine was not connected with this matter.

Goldfine testified his 43 telephone calls to Adams were made both to the White House and to Adams' private number. He said he once called Adams in Minneapolis but did not recall why he made that call.

UN Leader Doubts Need for Sending Troops to Lebanon

Approval Seen For Hike Under Social Security

Payroll Tax Would Be Increased Along With Benefits

Washington — (AP) — An increase in old age social security benefits, together with a hike in the payroll tax, moved today toward approval by the house ways and means committee.

It would mean an addition of 10 per cent, or a minimum of $5, to present social security pension checks under proposals now reportedly favored by committee members.

The committee started closed-door consideration yesterday of an across-the-board liberalization of old age benefits. Final agreement was expected by Friday—or at the latest, next Monday.

A boost in social security benefits appeared certain to get quick and enthusiastic approval by house and senate. It would be in line with an election-year pattern that has produced faster pension checks for the old folks every two years since 1952.

Higher Taxes

If enacted, the proposed 10 per cent hike in benefits, with a $5 monthly minimum, would be financed by increases in both the federal social security withholding tax and the taxable wage base.

Benefits now are financed by a payroll tax of 4 1/2 per cent with each worker and his employer contributing 2 1/4 per cent, on the worker's annual pay up to $4,200 a year.

If committee proposals are adopted, as expected, the payroll tax on each worker and his employer would be upped one-fourth of 1 per cent to 2 3/4 per cent and the taxable wage base increased from $4,200 to $4,800 a year.

In terms of paycheck deductions, this would mean that $120 instead of $94.50 would be held each year from paychecks of workers earning $4,800 or more.

The practice of voting election-year increases in social security benefits has been frowned upon by the Eisenhower administration. Secretary of Welfare Folsom opposed increases this year.

U. S. Marines Enter Beirut Port Area As More are Landed

No Opposition Indicated by Rebellious Units in Lebanon

BY EDWIN A. SHANKE

Beirut, Lebanon — (AP) — U. S. Marines occupied Beirut's port area in force today as their numbers swelled to 3,600 men with the landing of another battalion.

The move into the city from the beach area was made in tanks, half-tracks and amphibious vehicles. Eight-inch guns and other equipment poured from ships offshore. More men were on the way.

About 2,000 men occupied the strategic port area.

Leaders of Lebanon's rebellion have denounced the American landing, but they have put up no opposition.

The marines' movements indicated they were guarding vital points but would not come into contact with the rebels unless there is a major rebel attack. This strategy would leave the Lebanese security forces free to deal with the rebels.

The port area is a stronghold of the Falange irregulars who have taken up arms for the government. Crowds frequently cheered the marines. Rebel leaders fighting to topple pro-western President Camille Chamoun have denounced the marine landing. But there was no opposition as the marines swung into the capital.

Rebel leader Saad Salam, holed up in the Moslem quarter of Beirut, issued a statement urging Lebanese "to defend your country and safeguard your freedom."

An air of tension gripped the city.

American civilians were leaving the country in bigger numbers. Of about 3,200 Americans in Lebanon 220 private citizens

Gas Explosion Destroys Home

New York — (AP) — A gas explosion blew a $30,000 Queens home to bits at 3 a.m. today and critically burned a family of four.

The split-level home in Douglaston near Little Neck Bay, was demolished as a couple and their two small daughters huddled in the living room.

The four apparently were blown out into the yard. A policeman said "it was a miracle that any one got out of there alive."

The explosion scattered parts of the house over a radius of 50 yards. Fires were found in nearby trees. Fire broke out in the debris.

the 1956 uprising, the Indian Express said.

In Ceylon, usually a hotbed of anti-Americanism, the Evening Times defended the U. S. action as being in accordance with U.N. principles of collective self-defense and denounced Nasser as a latter-day Hitler flouting the banding principles of coexistence. The widely circulated paper called on the U.N. to act against Nasser's "predatory pan-Arabism."

Criticism in France

Both Britain and France supported the U. S. action. Some Frenchmen commented bitterly, however, that this seemed to justify the Anglo-French invasion of Suez in 1956, which Washington helped stop. Writing in the conservative Figaro, Andre Francois-Poncet of the French academy said, "Eisenhower appears to have realized the failure of the tactics he has

Face Probe in Fatal Injury

Wife and Son of Dead Man Held in Jail at Antigo

Antigo — (AP) — The wife and son of a 47-year-old Parrish farmer-logger who died Sunday night of a skull fracture were held in jail today as authorities investigated their story that he was hit on the head with a baseball bat during an argument.

Sheriff John Gray said surgeons at St. Mary's hospital, Rhinelander, who operated on Anton Bennis, Sr., told him that Bennis apparently had been struck a severe blow.

Sheriff Donald Krouze of Oneida county, who questioned Mrs. Bennis, quoted her as saying her husband was hit on the head with a bat wielded by their son, Delmar, 17, during an argument over the son's request for permission to use the family car.

Versions Differ

She said, according to the sheriff, that Bennis started chasing the son around the yard with the baseball bat, the son got the bat away from him and struck his father on the forehead with it.

Delmar's version of the fight, according to Gray, is that the bat accidentally hit his father while they were wrestling for possession of it.

The son attempted to enlist in the army Tuesday but was turned down because he lacked his parents' consent.

Sheriff Gray took the mother and son into custody Tuesday night, holding Mrs. Bennis as a material witness and Delmar without charge pending an inquest called by Coroner Harry Gibbons. The inquest probably will be held Thursday.

Lloyd to Fly To Washington For Conference

Britain Apparently Ready to Land Troops in Jordan

London — (AP) — Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd is flying to Washington tonight for conferences. He is reported to be taking word that Britain stands ready to land forces in Jordan as soon as King Hussein asks for military help.

In the house of commons today Lloyd said he had been invited to Washington by Secretary of State Dulles, and would go in order "to keep in the closest touch with the U. S. government."

Then, using a phrase that President Eisenhower emphasized yesterday, he said events that led to the Baghdad revolt were part of a sustained campaign of indirect aggression.

Tells of Cease-Fire

The aim, he said, is to overthrow established regimes and orders in the small, independent nations of the middle east.

Lloyd announced yesterday that Britain backed U. S. intervention in Lebanon. Today he said this had resulted in the rebels there ordering a cease-fire.

Lloyd did not elaborate his remarks or indicate the source of his information. Qualified informants said later the government had no direct word of a cease-fire, and Lloyd's statement was based on a British news agency report.

Troops in Japan And Okinawa Join in Alert

Tokyo — (AP) — American troops at the dormant Korean front, in Japan and on Okinawa quietly joined today the U. S. global military alert ordered by President Eisenhower.

Commanders in Japan and Korea said Adm. Felix Stump in alerting his Pacific command meant all ground and air forces as well as the navy.

Details of how troops sharpened their alert for any eventuality were secret.

"Every instruction we've got has been classified," said an officer of a Japan-based air unit.

Seoul radio carried an unconfirmed report that communist North Korea has canceled all army leaves and ordered troops back to their units.

The South Korean government station quoted a reliable Korean source. But it said South Korean army authorities had no such information.

No International Force Required to Halt Aid to Rebels, Hammarskjold Says

United Nations, N.Y. — (AP) — Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold said in effect today that no international military force is needed to stop the flow of outside aid to Lebanese rebels.

The secretary general addressed the 11-nation security council briefly just before U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge formally called for the establishment of a security force to supplement the U.N. observer group now in Lebanon.

Hammarskjold said he had been informed by the observation group that it had successfully completed arrangements for inspection of the entire Lebanese border.

"It is my feeling," he added, "that with the result thus achieved, the observation group is fully equipped to play the part envisaged for it in the U.N. total effort, with its general purpose of ensuring against infiltration and smuggling of arms."

One of the reasons given by the United States for the landing of American marines and for proposing a new security force was the inability of the U.N. observers to stop the flow of aid from the United Arab Republic to the Lebanese rebels.

Insufficient Means

In his speech this morning, Lodge commended the work of the observer group but said the proposed international force was intended to give it added strength.

"We recognize," he said, "that the means available to this organization (observer group) are insufficient to meet all aspects of the situation. This is particularly true in the light of recent events in Iraq and... efforts to overthrow the lawful government of Jordan."

Lodge, in urging the establishment of the new force, repeated the U. S. promise to withdraw American forces as soon as the U.N. is in a position to protect the independence and integrity of Lebanon.

Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev is expected to veto the U. S. proposal. Sobolev said yesterday the U. S. was making a mockery of the U.N. and threatening to plunge the world into a new war.

This morning the Soviet delegate renewed his attack on the United States. He accused the United States of hypocrisy in claiming that outside help to Lebanese rebels had increased alarmingly since the revolt in Iraq.

Assails "Big Lie"

He referred to Hammarskjold's statement that the observer group had succeeded in extending its inspection to Lebanon's entire borders.

Sobolev said the observation group certainly does not confirm U. S. claims that infiltration is increasing.

He called the U. S. claim "the big lie, the big mockery, the big cheat."

The Soviet Union was promoting a rival proposal for the council to demand immediate withdrawal of the marines the United States landed in Lebanon yesterday.

Delegates predicted the council would vote on both resolutions by nightfall.

Additional Recovery For National Economy Recorded Last Month

Washington — (AP) — Government figures show June brought further recovery for the nation's economy.

Industrial production rose, new housing starts increased, non-agricultural employment made advances and personal incomes was up.

The federal reserve board's index of industrial activity showed a production rise for the second straight month after dropping for eight months. The rise for June was two points to 130.9 per cent of the 1947-49 average.

The recession low of 126 was reached last April. The index record is 147 set in December, 1947.

The commerce department reported personal income rose in June to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $351,800,000,000, a figure just $300 million below the record set last August. The 1958 low of $348,400,000,000 was set in February.

The commerce department said the June rise reflected increases in wage and salary payments. Government social security and unemployment benefit payments declined for the first time since February.

May Keep Congress On Emergency Call

Consider Resolution Under Which Party Chiefs Could Call Members Of Both Houses Back Into Session

Washington — (U) — Legislative leaders may decide to keep Congress on call for any new Middle East emergency that might arise after it completes its regular business next month.

Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) forecast adoption of a resolution under which the party leaders of both houses could call members back into an emergency session if President Eisenhower himself did not do so.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the senate's Democratic leader, said he hasn't had time

Today Is 13th Anniversary Of Atom Bomb

Alamogordo, N. M. — (U) — Dawn came to the New Mexico desert 13 years ago with a jar that has never stopped shaking the world.

A power was unleashed that day—a power that has, at times, threatened to turn into mankind's Frankenstein.

Thirteen years ago this morning, a small group of scientists sworn to secrecy watched the first atomic bomb explode into a mushroom cloud.

The spot on the New Mexico desert between Alamogordo and Socorro was Trinity site. At 5:30 in the morning, the bomb obliterated the tower on which it was placed and glared a large saucer of surrounding desert sand.

Officials explained the far-felt jolt as the explosion of an ammunition magazine, until, three weeks later, President Truman told of the dropping of an atomic bomb on Hiroshima.

Then came to light what had been going on at the secret city of Los Alamos, in the mountains of northern New Mexico.

That was where the Trinity bomb, small in comparison to those man has built since, was born.

Man Suspected Of Killing His Children Jailed

Trooper Arrests Paul Pelton, 19, After Wide Search

Troy, Pa. — (U) — A father reported missing shortly after his three small daughters were found shot to death in their farm home Tuesday night was picked up today in a wooded area about four miles from home after an extensive search.

An unidentified state policeman and a farmhand apprehended 19-year-old Paul Pelton without a struggle and returned him to Bradford (Pa.) county jail.

The farmhand, Allen Palmer, who worked with Pelton on the same estate, noticed a horse missing from a barn. He and the state policeman followed the animal's tracks up a dirt road and through a patch of woods where they spotted Pelton lying on the ground, his arms folded over his head.

Surrenders

When Pelton stood up and lit a cigarette, the trooper fired over his head and called upon the father to give up. Pelton raised his hands in token of surrender.

The trooper found in Pelton's saddle a .22 caliber rifle, said by police to be the type of weapon used to shoot the three little girls, and two other rifles and a knife set.

Pelton remained silent while the trooper handcuffed him and all the way to jail.

The mother of the children, Mrs. Margaret Pelton, 23, found her children dead.

Findings

Mrs. Pelton said she had returned to the house after a visit and had found Connie, 2, slumped in her stroller, seemingly asleep. Concerned that the child was up so late, she called out to her husband.

There was no answer. She suddenly realized Connie was not. She ran into the bedroom. Patricia, 3, was on the bed. Pauline, 5 months, was in a basket. The children were dead.

Mrs. Pelton said later she ran out of the garage where her father, Carlton Brion, 45, had just parked the car. She yelled hysterically:

"We got to get help quick the children are dead."

Visit Brother

Brion had driven his daughter to Troy Community hospital earlier in the evening for a visit with Pauline's twin brother, Paul, who was critically ill from an asthmatic attack. They had been gone about four hours. Their home is just outside Troy, which is about 25 miles south of Elmira, N. Y.

Mrs. Pelton told a newsman that her husband, a slender 6-footer, had been a cheerful devoted man during their four years of marriage and was very fond of his four children.

Pelton, who recently was laid off at a women's stocking factory, had just bought the children new clothes, Mrs. Pelton said.

She said she had put the children to bed and just before she left for the hospital her husband had said:

"You stay at the hospital as long as you want to and I will watch the children."

Crisis in Iraq Sets Up Most Critical Situation Since World War II

But Events Indicate It's Unlikely New Global War Is Yet at Hand

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN

Athens — (U) — The reaction of the U.S. and British governments to the sudden explosion in Iraq sets up the most dangerous situation since the end of World War II.

The danger of a new global war is all too apparent, but it is unlikely that such a catastrophe is yet at hand.

The United States has intervened physically in the Middle East crisis. Undoubtedly the reaction from the Soviet Union is going to be violent. But the Russians are likely to avoid measures which might set off a big international conflict.

Doing Too Well

Moscow obviously is already doing far too well in the Middle East to risk world war at this juncture. The Russians probably will make ominous warlike noises for propaganda purposes while stopping short of overt actions which might precipitate a conflict.

The United States landed its marines in Lebanon despite Washington's desire not to intervene. The intervention was dictated not by events in Lebanon but by what happened in Iraq.

The action was not taken to save Lebanese President Camille Chamoun or any other one man, nor was it necessarily an act to save a specific government from going under. Events in Iraq were bound to give new impetus to the Lebanese revolt, but the main concern of the United States was the future of the entire Middle East, with its vast strategic importance to western Europe.

Life or Death

The United States and Britain face the prospect of the entire Middle East being enveloped by the unreassuring anti-western fever President Nasser Pauline, 5 months, was in a basket. The children were dead.

For Britain it is a matter of life or death. If the Iraqi revolt spreads into Kuwait, Britain most likely will fight. The oil production of Iraq and Kuwait is the life blood of British industry.

The United States, too, has a tremendous stake in what happens in this area, and in whether these events spill over into the Arabian peninsula to threaten the vast American oil holdings there.

The situation can bring the world close to the brink of a disaster. Culture N. A. ## Footprints May Contain Clue to Missing Plane

Searchers Find Tracks in Rugged Bluff Country in Mississippi River Region

Potosi, Wis. — (U) — Footprints that wandered in circles in the rugged bluff country along the Mississippi river have provided the latest lead in the search for a missing private plane with four persons aboard.

The plane, piloted by Lester Weber, 44, was last seen when it left Milwaukee last Friday. Also aboard were Weber's wife, Lorraine, 41; Weber's brother, Richard, 42, and Richard's wife, Frances, 29. They were en route to Des Moines, Iowa on the first leg of a flight to their homes in San Francisco. They had been visiting the brothers' parents in Milwaukee.

Discovered Tuesday

The footprints were discovered Tuesday afternoon by Al Alexander, police chief in this Grant county community in southwest Wisconsin, and a group of high school boys searching in the rough river country six miles west of here.

"Those prints must have been made sometime this morning," the chief said Tuesday night. "It rained Monday night and those footprints looked fresh. They wandered around in circles, giving me the impression whoever made them must have been lost."

"We followed the prints as far as we could, but lost them in the brush. This is pretty rough country out here."

Alexander said the prints were made by a woman's wedge shoe, similar to the kind worn by Mrs. Lorraine Weber.

Reuss Protests Action Without Asking Congress

Washington — (U) — Rep. Henry Reuss (D-Wis) protested Tuesday that the president should not have intervened in Lebanon without consulting congress and allowing debate.

Reuss spoke briefly on the floor of the house.

After the Milwaukee Democrat's remarks, the speaker of the house, Sam Rayburn (D-Texas) said, "In times like today, I think we had better allow matters to develop rather than to make remarks about them."

Rayburn explained that, in heading off what might have been a wave of foreign policy speeches in the house, he intended no criticism of Reuss.

Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis) told the senate Thursday that he protested "the failure of the president to prevent a situation which, in his judgment, necessitated sending American troops to Lebanon."

2 Youths Charged in 80-Mile-an-Hour Chase

Two youths Tuesday were charged with driving 80 miles an hour on Highway 96 in a race from Little Chute to County Trunk E.

Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmieghe fined Clement H. Van Zeeland, 19, 103; Main street, Little Chute, $50 and revoked his driver's license for a year. Revocation was stayed on condition VanZeeland is not arrested for a moving traffic violation for a year. The 80 miles an hour in a 45-mile zone cost Van Zeeland six points against his driving record.

David L. Burr, 19, Sturgeon Bay, did not appear in court and a warrant was issued for his arrest.

4 Illegal Parking Charges Dismissed on Payment of Costs
Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmieghe Tuesday, dismissed four illegal parking charges upon payment of $3.95 court costs.

Dismissed were charges against Eric Anderson, 18, 121 Hazel street, Neenah; Edward L. Gehrt, Embarrass; Raymond J. Kasten, 803 W. Winnebago street; and Sylvester J. Reilly, route 1, Neenah.

They are registered owners of cars ticketed for illegal parking on County Trunk BB west of Highway 41 last weekend. Capt. Ronald Decker said cars parked on the narrow county trunk created a hazardous condition.

Milwaukee Faces 14th Traffic Charge

Marvin S. Marcus, 21, Milwaukee, Tuesday in Outagamie county municipal court denied his 14th traffic charge in the last three years, the sixth this year.

Marcus, whose Wisconsin driver's license was revoked May 15 for three months for a bad driving record, was using a Michigan license when arrested by the state patrol April 8.

He told State Patrolman John Offerman at the time of arrest that he had never had his license revoked because he was the nephew of the late Benjamin Marcus, former state motor vehicle commissioner.

Marcus was arrested on Highway 41 two miles south of County Trunk U for driving 65 miles an hour in a 55-mile zone. His first court date was April 22, when he asked for a week's delay. The next time he was brought before the court, he entered a signed stipulation with a $13.20 bond.

Judge Oscar J. Schmieghe refused to accept the guilty plea via stipulation on July 8 and on W. Wisconsin avenue June 14.

and posted $53.20 bond for trial Sept. 4.

Convictions Listed
The court was told Marcus has these convictions:
1955—speeding March 7, failure to yield right-of-way May 6, improper plates Sept. 28, 1957—speeding in Georgia Feb. 2, illegal passing in Michigan on April 12, speeding in Michigan May 2, failure to obey signal and no driver's license on Oct. 25.

1958—illegal passing and failure to obey signal on April 2, speeding April 7 and April 15.

Marine Landing Will Impress Soviet Leaders

Shows West Won't Put Up With Red Subversion Campaign

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — By itself, the landing of American marines in Lebanon is not an earth-shaking event. United States forces have been landed lots of times in various parts of the world when it was necessary to protect American lives and property. Such action hasn't always led to a war.

The really important point is that the United States has made a counter-demonstration in the "cold war" which has a far-reaching purpose—to impress the men in the Kremlin that the west will no longer acquiesce in the campaign of aggressive subversion that has been developing in the middle east under the joint auspices of Moscow and Cairo.

Will the Soviet regime be impressed? The immediate reaction from the Soviet capital has been the customary denunciation of the American move and a pious defense of the revolutions in Lebanon and Iraq as noble efforts of nationalistic groups to deal with supposedly tyrannical governments.

Outside Exchanges
Outside of these exchanges of view as to what caused the trouble in Iraq and Lebanon, the broader strategy turns to the United Nations. Here the Soviets, with their veto in the security council, can block any action looking toward a policing of the area. The thesis that these are internal problems will be argued by the communist representatives at the U. N., but this will not accelerate the withdrawal of the American marines. In fact, President Eisenhower has stated that "the initial dispatch of troops will be augmented as required." The remarks by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge at the United Nations as well as the president's messages to congress and the American people indicate clearly that the American government does not view the middle eastern events as mere internal revolutions, but as something directly propagated by the Soviet government.

The situation has in it, of course, the ingredients of a serious crisis, depending upon how serious the rulers in Moscow want to make it. They would be taking a risk by letting a war crisis grow on the horizon, for it might be the signal for uprisings in east Germany and Hungary and in other states held captive by the Soviet dictatorship. Also, it's hardly likely that the people of Soviet Russia would relish a big war, and this, too, might cause the Kremlin to hesitate to precipitate a break that could lead to war.

Long Discussion

It looks, therefore, like one of those things that will bring a great deal of palaver in the U. N. without any action being taken except possibly to send more "observers" and military teams to try to arrange a "truce" or some kind of armistice. The discussion will doubtless be prolonged.

The United States government necessarily must look at the picture from the darkest side if the moves are to impress the Soviets. Certainly it is difficult to deal with the communist techniques of subversion by just sending in marines. Bribery of local leaders and the smuggling in of arms from Egypt by the communists can keep the fires of trouble burning in Iraq and Lebanon and perhaps later in Jordan. The western powers may have to face the fact that a larger military operation, possibly in the nature of a military protectorate, will have to be undertaken to keep the nations of the Middle East out of the hands of the communists.

At the moment, the American action is based on many precedents in international law—the protection of lives and property of its nationals. Also, in the case of Lebanon, the existing government has invited the troops of a friendly power to come in to help preserve its territorial integrity and independence.

It will be recalled that during the Truman administration, in 1947, the United States, at the invitation of the government of Greece, sent a military mission which thwarted the communist infiltration there. This was called the "Truman Doctrine." An amplified version of that intervention now is being applied under the "Eisenhower Doctrine." Whatever the historical comparisons may show, the United States again is displaying a firm hand in an effort to avert a larger war. The American marines are in the Middle East not only to protect American lives and property but also to warn the communists against further aggression. It does look like a showdown between the east and the west is in the making.

Offer New Plan For Vocational School State Aid

Want Amount Set By Number of Students, Class Hours

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — A new system of apportioning state tax funds for support of local schools of adult and vocational education has been offered to a legislative interim committee on education by C. L. Greiber, head of the state department of vocational education.

Greiber asks that state's aids to localities be governed by students in actual attendance and the number of their class hours of instruction, rather than by the amount of teachers' salaries.

He asked for a state support item of 15 cents for each class hour of work in courses approved by his state board, and 30 cents for such class work in courses approved by the state "which are technical courses with a vocational objective."

Would Triple Aid
According to present enrollments in about 45 schools, such a rate of support would triple the appropriations for such state aid, and cost about $1,800,000 yearly.

The committee, will report to the next legislature. Vocational school spokesmen have long argued that the state contributes proportionately less on behalf of the education of students enrolled in such institutions than to those going to high school, or to the state-supported institutions of higher education.

The 1957 legislature boosted state subsidies for the schools somewhat, but to levels far below those asked and desired by the schools which are otherwise supported largely by special local property tax levies. Greiber testified that the schools are now spending at a rate of about $47.80 per student yearly, that the federal contribution to their budgets amounts to 23 cents per capita, against about 9 cents for the state and about $1 for the locality, for a total per capita cost in Wisconsin of about $1.32 yearly.

seven votes for adoption, and a Soviet veto of the U.S. proposal was generally anticipated. One delegate suggested the Russians might abstain from voting and let the American resolution pass, preferring "a U.N. force to an American force."

Troops Would Stay
Diplomatic sources said that if Russia vetoed the American resolution, the United States would not ask for a special session of the general assembly to set up the U.N. force. Instead it would leave the marines in Lebanon as long as it thought their presence necessary.

The Lebanese government claims President Nasser's United Arab Republic is sending arms and men across its border to aid the rebels seeking the overthrow of pro-western President Camille Chamoun. Lodge told the council yesterday the force of about 135 military observers sent by the U.N. to Lebanon had not been able to halt the infiltration across the border.

Lodge said the "brutal and revolting" overthrow of Iraq's pro-western government Monday put new pressure on Lebanon from the U.A.R. He informed the council that the United States had answered a call for help from Chamoun and sent forces to Lebanon to safeguard Americans there and protect Lebanese independence.

U.S. Resolution
The marines, Lodge said, "will be withdrawn as soon as the United Nations can take over." His resolution repeated this pledge.

The American proposal would have the council request Hammarskjöld "immediately to consult the government of Lebanon and other member states as appropriate with a view to making such additional arrangements, including the contribution and use of contingents, as may be necessary to protect ation of a beachhead to assure peace and stability in the Middle East.

Landing of U.S. Marines in Lebanon affected governments of United Arab Republic President Nasser, left, and Yugoslav President Tito. Nasser, who geared overthrow of the pro-western government in Iraq sent a cable of greetings to the new sovereignty council in Iraq, including official recognition. The Yugoslav government declared the landing of marines threatens a new world war. Nasser, pictured with Tito during Yugoslavia visit last week, is enroute to Egypt. (AP Wirephoto)

The spotlight appeared likely to shift rapidly from Lebanon to neighboring Jordan, the part of the territorial integrity and independence of Lebanon and to insure that there is no illegal infiltration."

The resolution also called for immediate cessation of all infiltration of arms or men into Lebanon and of radio attacks "calculated to stimulate disorders."

ner of Iraq in the Arab federation. A pro-Nasser coup on Monday overthrew Faisal, king of Iraq and chief of the federation. The Iraqi rebels have announced that Premier Nuri Said and Crown Prince Abdul Ilah were killed. Reports were still conflicting as to the fate of Faisal. King Hussein of Jordan announced his succession to Faisal as head of the federation.

A Jordan spokesman in Amman said the United States and Britain were considering what aid to give Jordan. The Jordan radio indicated he has asked for assistance to put down the rebel regime in Baghdad.

Britain has announced movements of land, air and sea forces toward the Middle East.

The first marine unit to enter Beirut was headed by U.S. Ambassador Robert McClintock, Adm. James L. Holloway, commander of the U.S. forces, and Gen. Fuad Shehab, commander of the Lebanese army. It included a tank and two troop carriers with 30 men aboard. This column stopped at the U.S. embassy.

Another unit, including a tank and five amphibious troop carriers with 150 men, continued to the port area, presumably to secure it for the landing of supplies at docks.

Confer on Highway
The movement into the capital was halted for an hour when Shehab arrived. He conferred in the road with the U.S. ambassador, the American admiral, and Brig. Gen. Sidney Wade, commander of the 2nd Marine division. Then the conference moved inside a Lebanese army training school.

When the conferees came out they said they had reached agreement on liaison.

A jeepload of Lebanese military police took its place at the head of the column and it moved on into town.

In front of the house of opposition leader, Hussein Owini, the column halted abruptly. Lebanese military police jumped out of their jeep and fanned out in all directions as if chasing snipers. No shots were fired, and the procession continued on through the narrow streets.

Second Contingent
The second contingent of 1,800 marines began landing early today from ships of the U.S. 6th fleet, joining the 1,800-man contingent that arrived here yesterday. Another battalion will arrive shortly, bringing the total to 5,400 men.

Offshore 11 ships of the 6th fleet rode at anchor, LSTs were pulled up to the beach.

Equipment rolled off the LSTs and was moved across the sand to higher ground, around the airport. Two helicopters ranged back and forth from the beach to the ships.

Tanks, anti-aircraft guns, anti-tank guns mounted on catapillars, self-propelled 8-inch guns, jeeps and transport of all types were rolling ashore.

followed up to now and is disposed to adopt another course."

Iraq's three Asian associates in the anti-Soviet Baghdad pact—Turkey, Iran and Pakistan—discussed the situation at a meeting in Ankara and expressed their "satisfaction and thanks" officially for the American landing.

Another leader whose country U.A.R. President Nasser would like to dominate, Prime Minister Abdulla Khalil of Sudan, said the U.S. action gave him "overwhelming joy" and was a turning point in the Middle East crisis. He added his government has no tendency to recognize the pro-Nasser rebel government in Iraq.

Cairo newspapers, as expected, accused the United States of aggression against Lebanon and of occupying the country. "The United States," said Al Gumhurriya, "wants to strike at Arab nationalism . . . but this will only result in more determination of the people to get rid of imperialism and its agents."

Both nationalist China and Panama, U.S. allies sitting on the U.N. Security council, announced support for the American action.

But three Far Eastern allies had reservations. Japanese government sources termed the landing unwise and undesirable. The sources said Japan's security council delegate would work for withdrawal of the marines.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Care Needed In Picking Fair Vegetables

BY HAROLD TECH
and Garden Exhibit

In selecting and preparing vegetables for exhibit, one should try to anticipate the basis upon which the judge will likely make his decision. There are so many kinds of vegetables, each of which has its special points, that it is possible to give in brief form only the more general considerations.

As a rule, if one meets the general qualifications, his sample will be in the prize money except possibly in exhibits where there is unusually keen competition.

The first consideration is to be sure your sample meets the requirements of "number of specimens". It should exactly meet the requirements, not almost. If the number is six and you show five, your sample is disqualified at the start. Don't exhibit more than the number required. If you show more than required, the judge has the right to disqualify your sample. Even if he does not do so, you stand less chance of winning as it is much harder to select seven perfect specimens all alike than it is six.

Show Exact Number

Some exhibitors show a large number of specimens than required, evidently because they expect the judge to pick out the best ones. That is not the way it works out. It is not the judge's business to make your selection for you and, as a result, he will, and rightfully should, consider the poorer specimens as making up the sample. Be exact when the prize number calls for a definite number.

Second, see that your sample meets the qualifications set for the particular prize number under which you expect to enter. For example, the prize number might call for slicing beets. We often see pickling beets entered under this prize number. Of course, this sample is ruled out because it does not meet the limitations for that particular prize number.

Mail Boxes Damaged At Little Chute

Satisfaction of Good Job Skill, Information Needed for Proper Showing of Sheep, Hogs

BY OLIVER LERUM
Supv. of Sheep and Swine Exhibits

There is a lot of satisfaction to be had by a boy or girl doing a good job of showing sheep or swine.

The job of the showman in the ring is to show his animal to the very best advantage. This job, however, starts before the animal even arrives at the fair. It starts with the selection of the animal and continues through the feeding and care of the animal.

The showman must present his animal with the proper bloom and condition. As an artist molds his clay, the sheep showman must trim the fleece to bring out the desirable conformation. On both sheep and hogs, soap and water are must to bring out the quality of the fleece on sheep and skin and hair on hogs.

Real Test

The real test comes when the young showman enters the ring to complete his job by giving it a good show.

The showman should be conscious of his own appearance in the show ring. He should be neat and act like a livestock man at all times.

This means knowing how to handle the animal.

Some points on handling sheep are:

Move sheep by placing left hand under chin and right hand over dock. Never pull on wool except under chin. Never use a rope or collar.

Practice "standing" your sheep with all four feet set between him and sheep.

Swine Points

Some points on handling swine are:

Train your pig to respond to whip or cane.

Keep your animal where the judge can see him at all times, but do not drive it in such a manner the judge cannot move freely.

Watch both animal and judge at all times.

Do not drive your animal between judge and another animal he is observing.

It is important to remember that whatever the decision of the judge, it should be accepted as final. The best showman has won.

4-H Members to Exhibit Photos For First Time

Photography exhibits by 4-H club members will be shown for the first time this year at the Outagamie county fair. Over 60 youngsters have taken photography as a project and are learning good picture composition and how to take better pictures.

Many club members use their cameras in conjunction with other projects to show the progress made.

Members can enter three exhibits of black and white pictures. A series of six or more pictures can be used to tell a story or six pictures can be entered on any one subject. A third class is one 5 by 7 enlargement with the record of how the picture was taken and a statement about it.

Mail Boxes Damaged At Little Chute

Little Chute, Kimberly Tips Green Bay Squad

Cop 14-4 Victory, Bob Vanden Burgt Clouts Home Run

Kimberly — Little Chute-Kimberly pushed their season record to 12-2 by whipping Green Bay 14 to 4 in an exhibition game here Tuesday night.

The win was the fourth straight in non-league play for the Papermakers. In the Fox Valley loop they have an overall record of 8-2.

Green Bay had only eight men to start the game and Clair Bolwerk of the LC-K filled in at shortstop. The contest was halted after six and one-half innings by mutual agreement.

Five Run Lead

LC-K moved to a 5-run lead in the first inning. Rog Vanden Wylst tripled with Bob Vanden Burgt and Floyd Hammen on base for two runs and Vanden Wylst scored on Elmer Kobs' single. Ron Weigman followed with another hit and catcher Ron Kunzman batted another triple to score two more.

Green Bay rebounded with a pair of runs in the second and one in the third to shave the lead to 5 to 3. Three walks by starting pitcher Bob Schmidt loaded the bases for the Bay club and a hit by Ron Miller scored two.

Schmidt started the game for LC-K and pitched the first four innings. Fay Mehlberg came in and went the rest of the way. Schmidt struck out four and walked three in four frames while Mehlberg had four strikeouts and issued one free pass.

Clouts Homer

Miller was the losing pitcher for Green Bay. He was relieved by Jim Destiche in the sixth.

LC-K scored once in the third on three hits and counted twice in the fourth when Bob Vanden Burgt hit an inside the park home run. The winners capped it off with a 6-run uprising in the sixth.

Eleven men batted in the sixth, there were five hits, one error and a hit batter. Kunzman had his second triple of the night in the big inning with two men on base.

Rog Vanden Wylst led the LC-K team with two for two, a triple and single while Ron Weigman also had a pair of hits in as many trips. Bolwerk led Green Bay with two hits in as many trips.

One day last summer some people from Chicago drove into Ray Fassbender's service station at Black Creek and saw a 5-pound potato on the desk. After assuring them the potato had grown to that size naturally and had come from the nearby Bischoff farm, Fassbender gave it to them. A few days ago, the same group stopped on their way north and told Fassbender the big spud had provided a satisfactory meal for three families.

Clouds Again Block View of Sputnik

Cloudy skies again spoiled the view of Sputnik III for Fox Cities residents Tuesday night. Skies were fairly clear overhead, but the cloud layer in the western sky, where the Russian satellite made a pass about 10 o'clock, made visibility impossible. Monday night similar conditions prevailed. The man-made moon will make another pass about 10 o'clock tonight, but will be so far west of the Fox Cities and so low on the horizon chances of seeing it, even in clear weather, will be small.

Briefs Filed In 2 City Cases

Disputes Involve School Attachment, Curb Openings

Briefs were filed in circuit court Tuesday by City Atty. Don Jury in actions involving attachment of Grand Chute School non-operating District No. 1 to Appleton and the curb opening dispute between the city and the Erickson Oil company.

Appleton is appealing attachment of the district, ordered last Oct. 22 by the Outagamie and Calumet county school committees, and Erickson Oil company seeks to prevent the city from changing curb openings at its service station at 600 W. Wisconsin avenue.

A year ago the firm got a temporary injunction to stop city crews from altering the curb openings.

The city claimed the oil firm made curb openings less than 12 feet from the corner. That minimum distance had been ordered by the city council. The company claimed the 12-foot setback was an unreasonable and arbitrary use of police power.

At the trial Oct. 1, the court asked opposing attorneys Jury and Franklin P. Nehls to file briefs. Nehls filed his brief several months ago. Judge Andrew W. Parnell June 25 told Jury unless his brief was filed by Tuesday the case would be decided without it.

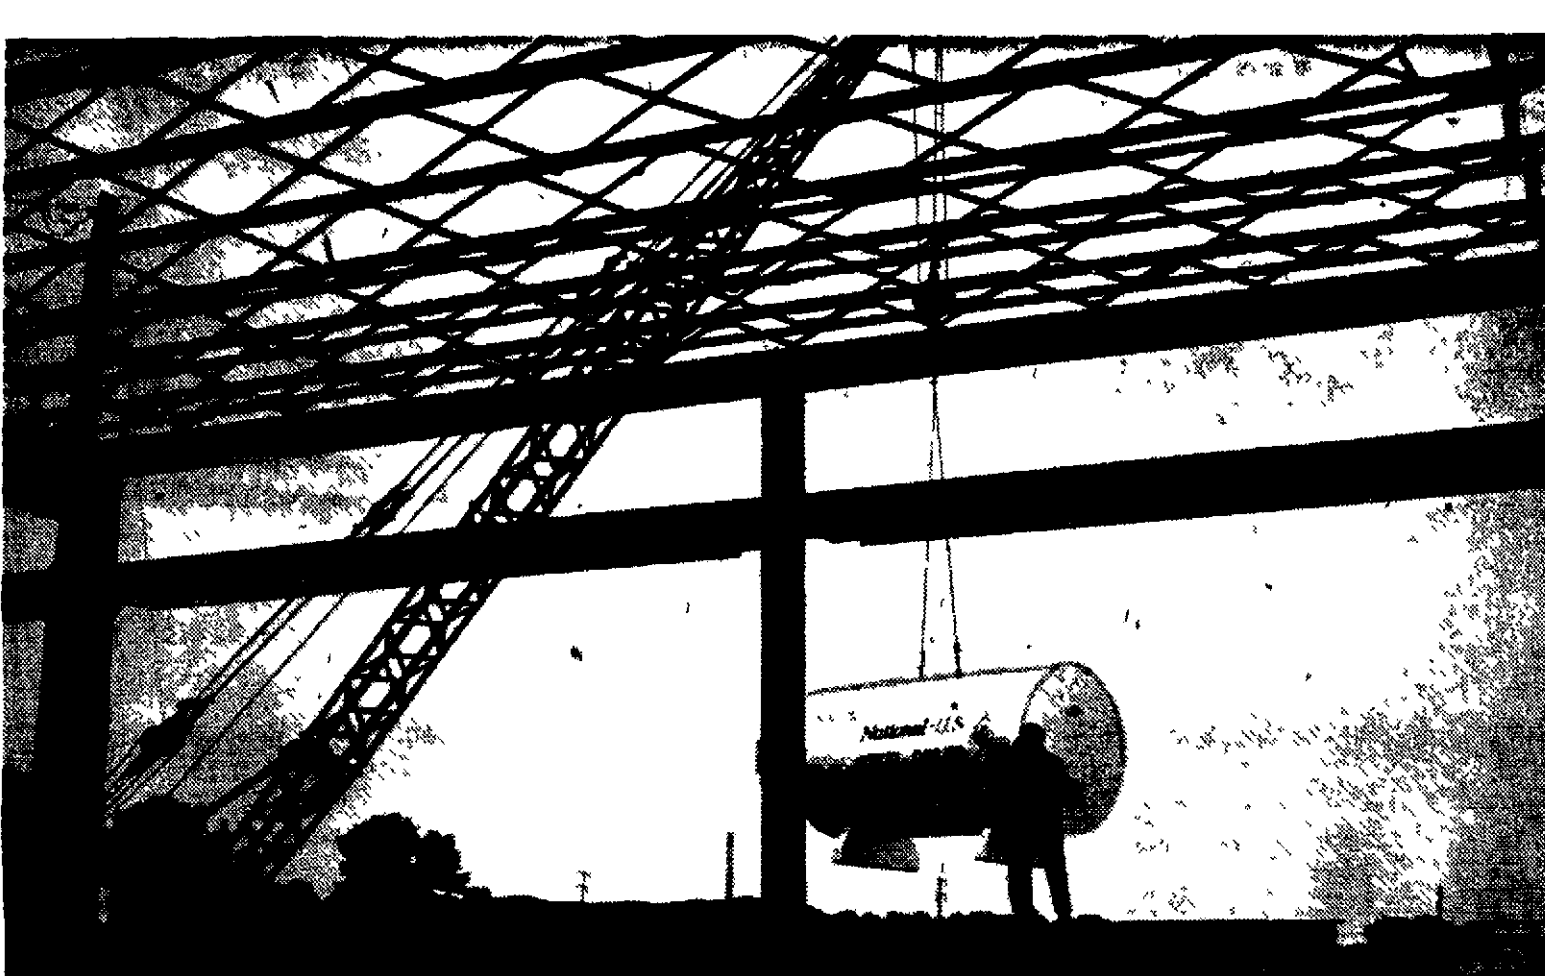

In the school district case, Judge Parnell told Jury and County Corporation Counsel Raymond Dohr to file briefs last January. With Jury's first No deadline was set. However, Dohr filed first, two weeks ago.

The city appealed the attachment on grounds the school committees had no authority to set a date for attachment after last Aug. 30.

A third case involving appeal of N. Division street improvement charges went to arbitration in January. Each side was to name an arbitrator and the court appoint a third. Judge Parnell said Tuesday that after the change in city administration it was felt the case could be settled. The court never has been asked to appoint an arbitrator.

Grants Extension

Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell has granted Kimball's Hardware, 123 N. Appleton street, an extension of time for the store's close-out sale to July 22.

A Hot Water Boiler Is framed by a network of steel girders as it is lowered into St. Pius X school. The boiler has an output sufficient to heat about 30 homes. It is 11 feet long and has a diameter of five feet. The building has room for a second boiler when classrooms are added to the school and a permanent church is constructed. The school will cost about $700,000. Construction began this spring and is expected to be finished by next fall. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Storm Sewer Contract Goes To Cato Firm

2 Contractors Split Sewer, Water Laterals Work in Riverdale Plat

Brennan - Rolland Excavators, Inc., route 1, Cato, was recommended Tuesday by the board of public works for a $43,766.25 contract for storm sewer work.

Four contractors offered prices for work on 10 streets. The Cato firm's price was low. City councilmen will vote on the contract at 7:30 tonight.

The storm sewer work will be done in these streets:

- E. Harding from S. Carpenter to a point west of S. Lawrence.
- E. Hoover from S. Madison to S. Jefferson.
- S. Connell from W. Prospect to a point a half block south of N. Locust from W. Parkway to W. Roberts.
- N. Meade from E. Wisconsin to E. Summer.
- N. Rankin from E. Wisconsin to E. Brewster.
- E. Wisconsin from N. Viola extended to N. Rankin.
- S. Pierce from Lutz drive to W. Fifth.
- W. Fifth from S. Pierce to a point a half block east.
- S. Oneida ravine at St. Elizabeth hospital.

Lateral Contracts

Contracts for installing sewer and water laterals in nine streets in the Riverdale plat were recommended.

Three contractors quoted prices for trenching and the low price for each street was recommended.

John McHugh had the low bid on two streets: $4 a foot on S. Driscoll from W. Prospect to the railroad tracks, and $6 a foot on

W. Prospect from S. Bartel to S. Perkins.
Paul Gressl had the low bid on the other streets. He quoted $4.50 a foot for work on S. Bartel from W. Prospect to W. Pine, S. Riverdale from W. Prospect to W. Pine, S. Perkins from W. Prospect to the railroad tracks, W. Pine from S. Bartel to S. Riverdale, Hickory court from S. Bartel to S. Riverdale, W. Charles from S. Bartel to S. Perkins, S. Orchard from W. Prospect to W. Reid.

The bid of Utschig dairy to furnish milk for relief cases and the city milk was rejected because it was not accompanied by the required cash guarantee. Bids from the Quaker Dairy company and Fairmont Foods were referred to the relief director for tabulation and forwarding to the welfare and ordinance committee.

Thursday Through Sunday

Everything in Readiness for 1958 Outagamie County Fair Opening

Everything is in readiness for Outagamie county's big event of the summer — the county fair. It opens Thursday at Seymour and runs through Sunday.

The exhibits are up, the midway's rising and the horse owners have greased the wheels of their sulkies and given their animals a final workout. The fair this year is two weeks earlier than usual.

Thursday will be children's day, with a big pet show and contest program for those 16 and under. All are eligible to enter pets and take part in the contests. No registration or entry fee is required and admission to the grounds and grandstand will be free to 6 o'clock in the evening.

Free Vaudeville Show

Pets will be considered in three categories — dog, pony and specialty. Youngsters entering pets will get free tickets for rides and the winning contestants will receive trophies, ribbons and cash awards. Bicycle races, sack races and other contests will be held in front of the grandstand. To top off the afternoon, a vaudeville show will be presented, with "Popeye" as master of ceremonies.

Prices for the 32 midway rides will be reduced for children's day.

The Thursday evening grandstand show will feature Pee Wee King and his Golden West Cowboy band at 8:30 after a band concert. With his troupe are Little Eller Long of the Ozark Jubilee; Donnie White, a rock'n'roll recording star; Gene Stewart, vocalist; Andy Doll, another recording singer; Bud Carlell and Rose with their rope and whip act; and the Acrotikes balancing act. A fireworks display will end the evening show.

Exhibits will be judged Friday morning, followed by a horse pulling contest, tractor tipping demonstration and a safe driving demonstration in the afternoon. The Junior Fair

Driver Just Can't Win — Fined No Matter What

Lincoln, Ill. — Vivian T. Glick, 40, jumped from the frying pan into the fire after paying a $150 fine for drunken driving.

He was hauled back into court of Justice of the Peace Dan T. Atteberry and fined another $20 for speeding — he was in too big a hurry to get out of town.

dress revue will be at 7:30 Friday evening, followed by the same grandstand show as Thursday night.

Harness racing will return to the fair with six races scheduled for 1:30 both Saturday and Sunday afternoons. More races than ever before are scheduled and the purses offered also set a new record.

A new feature of the races will be the 2-year-old pace and trot under sponsorship of the Wisconsin Breeders and Harness Horse association. These are stake races with the purse estimated at $1,000 each.

There also will be vaudeville acts Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Star Night Revue

The grandstand program Saturday and Sunday nights will be the "1958 Star Night Revue" starring the Mariners, who proved so popular at the 1956 fair, and Nick Todd, younger brother of Pat Boone, who has become a star in his own right.

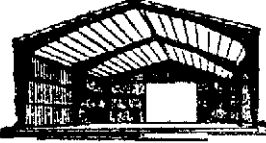

Others featured will be the Monahans and the Elkin Sisters, acrobats and equilibrists; Hank the Balloon man; the Conductor Aerial act, which performs 120 feet in the air; Peggy Kline, comedian, and Zippy the Chimp.

Playing at concerts before the races and grandstand shows will be the Appleton and Kimberly city bands, the Seymour High school band and several drum and bugle corps.

Grounds and buildings will be jammed with machinery, automobiles, home appliances and other commercial displays. Junior fair demonstrations and other activities will be presented throughout the four days. A parade of blue ribbon livestock winners will precede the Sunday afternoon grandstand program.

The midway will be entirely new this year, with Gold Bond shows, of Mt. Sterling, Ill., featuring the rides, shows and concessions.

Begin Hearing On Petition Against Sheriff

Former Bawdy House Operator Says She Paid for Protection

Green Bay — Mary Ann Sanderson, convicted twice in 1957 of operating a house of prostitution in rural Brown county, was the first witness today in the hearing on petitions to remove Sheriff Artley Skenandore from office.

The hearing opened before Herman Sachtyen, retired Dane county circuit judge, in the Brown county courthouse before a standing room crowd of about 300.

Mrs. Sanderson, who now lives in Green Bay and who described her present occupation as a dress maker, repeated under oath her charges against Skenandore contained in the petition to Gov. Vernon Thomson. Under questioning by John Potter, Wisconsin Rapids, special counsel for the hearing, Mrs. Sanderson testified she paid $840 in protection money to the sheriff, gave him repeated gifts ranging from luggage to free drinks and that the sheriff had knowledge that prostitution was being conducted at her place of business.

In a formal reply to the petition against him, Skenandore stated for the hearing record that the money was a loan since repaid. He said further, that he had no knowledge of the prostitution but that he had received such information.

He personally advised the said Mary Ann Sanderson that if such information were true she was to cease such operation and further advised members of his department of the information he possessed so that he might be alerted to such information for the purpose of further investigation," the sheriff's reply stated.

In her testimony, Mrs. Sanderson said Skenandore had made repeated promises to protect her operation.

"Peanuts"
"I said, 'Artley, if you hear anything you let me know.' He said if he heard of any state men coming into town he would let me know because he would be the first to know. He said he would play ball with me if I played ball with him, but that he couldn't be bought for peanuts."

She went into detailed testimony about the gifts she claimed she had given the sheriff since the fall of 1956 when he first was a candidate for sheriff.

Mrs. Sanderson also testified that former Dist. Atty. Bernard Bertrand had threatened her in a telephone conversation at the time the petitions were being prepared for the governor.

Curb, gutter and widening work between W. College and W. Wisconsin avenues is complete. So is curb, gutter and widening between Highway 41 and W. Glendale avenue. ## Civil Defense Head Wants Space in Next Fire Station

A northside neighborhood fire station should contain basement space for the city's civil defense headquarters, CD Director Robert C. Beltrone said Tuesday.

Beltrone, in a letter filed at city hall for forwarding to the civil defense commission, listed these reasons:

1. Initial cost would be considerably less than building a separate headquarters building later.

2. The northside is well away from the center of town but always accessible.

3. A permanent base of operations is just as important as the organization itself. Building now may save lives later.

The organization now has office space on the second floor at city hall.

The commission will meet at 3:30 this afternoon.

Expect 8,000 In Appleton Public Schools

An estimated 8,000 students will attend Appleton public schools in the 1958-59 year, according to Supt. of Schools John P. Mann. This compares to an enrollment of 7,826 in the second week of September, 1957.

The estimate includes an enrollment of 1,850 for Appleton High school, an increase of 250; 1,400 for junior high schools, about the same as last year's figure; and 4,700 to 4,800 for elementary schools, a slight increase.

The elementary school figure takes into consideration elimination of the kindergarten for 4-year-olds and addition of 250 first graders from Sacred Heart and St. Pius X schools.

In his report to the board of education Monday night, Mann reported an Appleton school census of 13,722, an increase of 730. The census includes young people from 4 to 19, many of whom attend parochial schools.

Exact public school enrollment figures will not be available until the first week in September, Mann said.

3 Area Students Attend Institute

Three students from Appleton and Menasha are among 437 at the 29th annual National High school institute at Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill.

They are Joseph Foley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Foley, 238 W. Seymour street, in the speech school; John Scribner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Scribner, 1138 W. Elsie street, working on engineering and science at the technological institute, and Kay Halversen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Halversen, 213 Bullard court, Menasha, in speech.

The three appraisers and the amounts they charged are Norman Hall, $753.75, Joseph Doerfler, $720, and George Peotter, $745.75.

Their appraisals resulted in the works board deciding to offer property owners involved a total of $90,535. Meetings between the property owners and works board members and state highway commission are being arranged.

Communist Tells Ike Dispatch of Troops Imperialistic Act

New York — Eugene Dennis, national secretary of the communist party, has told President Eisenhower that his dispatch of troops to Lebanon was "an act of aggressive imperialistic intervention."

In a telegram to the President yesterday, signed on behalf of the national committee of the communist party, Dennis called for immediate withdrawal of the U.S. forces.

The message said the sending of troops "constitutes a grave menace to world peace which endangers the lives and security of the American people no less than those of others and which, if not checked, could well lead to a nuclear holocaust."

Slow Progress On Curb, Gutter Jobs Criticized

Works Board Also Gets Complaint on Payroll Records

The board of public works Tuesday called an Appleton contractor on the carpet—in absentia—for slow progress in the curb and gutter program, and heard a complaint by union officials against another contractor union men claim is not filing true copies of payroll records with city hall.

Warren Wiesler Construction company, is behind on curb and gutter work, the board said. Paul C. Gresi, the union men claim, violated terms of his paving contract last year.

Wiesler today said it was true he was ordered to start curb and gutter work on June 23 and has finished only one short section, but rain has held up progress.

Mrs. Gresi said her husband was out on a job somewhere and couldn't be reached for comment.

The late start on curb and gutter work, board members said, was because Wiesler has all his crew working on the N. Richmond street reconstruction project, for which he also holds the contract.

Wiesler had been sent a registered letter inviting him to the Tuesday meeting, but he said today he had moved recently and knew of no letter.

When he failed to appear, board members seemed at a loss on what to do. Two members declared they were in favor of cancelling the contract.

Director of Public Works Edwin J. Duszynski said a contract cancellation would mean readvertising for bids on the work and another delay of a month in getting a contractor in the field.

May Call Meeting

The board took no action, but Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell said later a special meeting may be called.

Robert Schlieve and Richard Hinz, union leaders, who filed the claim against Gresi Tuesday, made similar charges of irregularities in payroll records filed at city hall by Algoma's Tenor Brothers Construction company last year.

The board ordered an invitation sent to Gresi for a joint meeting on Aug. 5.

2 Menasha Youths Put on Probation In Theft of Beer

Two Menasha youths were placed on probation for two years on charges of burglary, theft and concealing stolen property after they pleaded guilty Tuesday afternoon in municipal court.

Wayne R. Morris, 18, 342 Third street, admitted breaking into the Biljan Distributing company, 1635 W. Haskell street, July 9 and taking a case of beer.

Robert A. Kuhr, 21, 210 Mathewson street, admitted receiving and concealing two cases of beer he knew were stolen. A minor also was involved and took the second case of beer.

Morris was sentenced to a year in the state reformatory on the burglary charge and six months in the county jail for theft. Both sentences were stayed and he was placed on probation. Kuhr was sentenced to six months in jail for receiving stolen property. That, too, was stayed.

Morris admitted to sheriff's officers he broke a window and entered the distributing firm with the minor boy. Kuhr and another minor remained in the auto outside the building.

IRA Raiders Blow Up British Customs Huts

Belfast, Northern Ireland — IRA raiders blew up three British customs huts, three roads and a bridge today along the border separating the Irish republic from the six counties of Northern Ireland.

Police blamed the illegal Irish republican army for the bold daylight raids. The IRA demands the British get out of Northern Ireland and that the area be incorporated into the Irish republic.

One raider car was blown up when a bomb it was carrying exploded. The blast killed one man and injured two others.

Another Site Offered for Fire Station

The city has received its second formal offer of land for a northside neighborhood fire station.

Karlson and Kermeth Krick told the board of public works Tuesday they will sell two lots on the east side of N. Meade street for $9,200.

They are the fourth and fifth lots south of Highway 41 in the Kesting subdivision, the Krickes said, and each is 75 feet wide by 134 feet deep.

The Krickes want $2,000 down with the balance at the rate of $2,000 a year at 4 per cent interest.

Earlier, Robert J. Kennedy of Carroll and Carroll Real Estate offered an 80 by 120-foot parcel at E. Wisconsin avenue and N. Charlotte street for $9,500.

Works board members have said they feel the E. Wisconsin tract is too far east and Fire Chief Paul Neumann expressed dissatisfaction with it.

Speeders Fined, Lose Licenses in Justice Court

Kaukauna — Two men were fined for speeding and two youths lost driving privileges for 30 days when arraigned before Oscar T. Jahns, justice of the peace, Monday morning.

Paying court costs of $4.75 and losing their driver's licenses for 30 days were George L. Smith, 17, 208 W. Third street, Kaukauna, and Gene L. Telin, 17, 340 Grandview avenue, Menasha.

Robert Brick, 18, route 1, Brillion, was fined $25 for speeding and George Rooyakkers, 27, 1035 E. Kimberly avenue, Kimberly, was fined $10 for speeding. Both men will have three points charged against their record.

Approval Sought of Street Layout for 2nd Palisades Plat

Approval of a tentative street layout for the second addition of the Palisades plat is being sought of the city council by the Baldwin company.

The land is north of Winnebago County Trunk P and west of Palisades drive in the town of Menasha.

The plat will be referred to the planning commission for study.

Uncle Ray Hunting Account Continued By Explorer Paul du Chaillu

BY RAMON COFFMAN

Yesterday we left Paul Du Chaillu face to face with a big gorilla. With the white man were several Negroes. Going on with his account, the explorer said:

"The gorilla was not afraid of us, but beat his breast with his huge fists, until it resounded like a bass drum, meantime giving vent to roar after roar.

"The beast's eyes flashed fire. The creast of hair on his forehead began to twitch, while his powerful teeth were shown as he again sent forth a roar. He reminded me of some dream creature, half-man half-beast, which old artists pictured.

"He advanced a few steps, then stopped to utter that hideous roar... we fired. With a groan which had something terribly human in it, he fell forward on his face."

That gorilla died, as did several others which were hunted by Du Chaillu. In describing one of them, he wrote:

"Gorillas differ in height. This one was over five feet and six inches. Its arms spread out seven feet and two inches. The chest measured 50 inches around. The feet were well fitted for grabbing and holding."

While observing the life of gorillas, Du Chaillu found that they often ate tonda, a pear-shaped fruit with reddish color. The natives of the area also were fond of tonda.

Among the places visited was a village containing Negroes known as Fans. There still are

McElroy Makes Hurried Return From Pacific

Says American Forces Are Ready For Any Task

Washington — Secretary of Defense McElroy said today that he thinks the American people can be assured our forces are ready for any assignment.

McElroy made that comment to newsmen who met him on his hurried return from the nuclear weapons proving grounds in the Pacific. He was visiting the test site when the American landings in Lebanon were ordered.

McElroy said he assumed he would see President Eisenhower some time today.

Kept in Touch

He said he had been in touch with Washington during his trip back from Eniwetok, talking by telephone during a 2-hour stop in Hawaii Tuesday night.

In saying American forces are ready for any assignment, McElroy was answering a question about President Eisenhower's statement Tuesday that additional forces might have to be used in the Middle East.

McElroy said the Strategic Air command, the navy, and the Strategic Army corps are alerted.

McElroy was reluctant to discuss the Middle East situation in any detail, saying he had been traveling much of the time since the crisis arose.

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

Clues to Beauty

Are you on the watch for cosmetic news? Unless you keep informed, you may miss out on a development your skin has been waiting for.

Are you alert, for example, to the new skin "tranquilizer?" It is designed to relieve the deeper etching of lines or the temporary blotching of color that so often comes with tension or fatigue.

Do you know about "facial ice?" Containing moisturizers and astringents, this works to soften the skin and tighten the pores. It can be worn under make-up or used as a pick-up. It's cooling, too!

There are a growing number of creams and lotions that include an ingredient derived from placental extract. Regular use is said to promote the skin's resilience and resist wrinkles.

But turn detective and you will uncover many more, equally marvelous new clues to new beauty.

Answer: Your husband is being most polite and correct in relinquishing his chair to the wife who should not continue accepting his offer but get a chair of her own. If, however, she does continue, then perhaps the best solution would be for you to buy an extra chair for her or any guest you might have.

Surprising Question
Dear Mrs. Post: Is it permissible for a guest to take home an unfinished bottle of liquor from his table at a wedding reception? Some say "Yes" it is a guest's privilege, and others say "no."

Answer: No, most certainly not!

Basic Lines of Figure Skillfully Revealed by Chapman's Sheath

AP Woman's Editor

New York — The "dancing nymph" silhouette is Cell Chapman's latest contribution to the field of feminine skullduggery after dark.

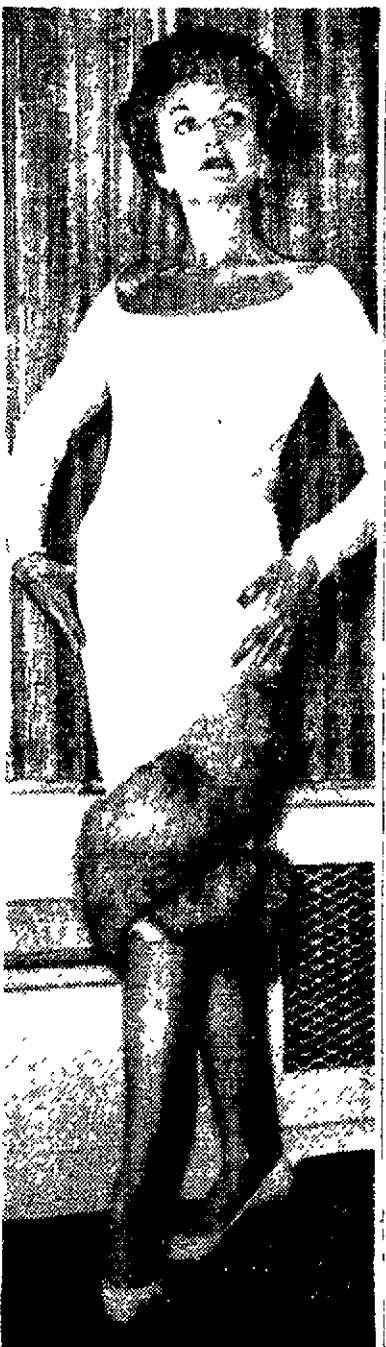

Shown in both cocktail and long evening gowns, it is based on a slender sheath, with cocoon-shaped puffed panels caught under at hipline or hemline, for highly dramatic effect.

The glamor designer follows the season's trend to empire waistslines, but puts her heart into such man-traps as a long, slender, white brocade evening sheath with long, tight sleeves, a revealing neckline and a platinum fox border at the hemline.

Reveals Figure
No matter what the prevailing silhouette, Mrs. Chapman never obscures the basic lines of the feminine figure — perhaps one reason why she is the U. S. male's favorite designer. This season she uses a device called the "masked sheath" to bow to the empire line and still reveal a trim waistline. This type of dress has bands or seaming beneath the high, rounded bustline, with filmy, transparent floating skirt over a fitted slip. This gives movement and airiness to the silhouette, but does not hide the lines of the body beneath it all.

The "diamond horseshoe" silhouette is another favorite in the Chapman collection, being a long, slender sheath with flaring cutaway hemline, to give ankle room.

Opulent Touches
Jewels, beads, sequins and fringe lend opulent notes to the lineup, which has plenty of dresses with fitted bodices and full skirts to please girls who still believe in the impact of a slender, natural waistline, well displayed. There also are frankly fitted floor-length sheaths, usually with long, tight sleeves, in fabulous brocades, satins and jeweled effects, designed to dramatize feminine curves.

Man-Traps Such as this long, slender white brocade evening sheath with platinum fox border at the hemline have made Cecil Chapman the U. S. male's favorite designer. The couturier's collection follows the season's trend to empire waistslines in the New York showing. (AP Wirephoto)

Extra Chair Suggested As Solution

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I live in a 2-family house. The house has a very nice porch and in the evening my husband and I generally go out there and sit. We have our own porch chairs which we keep out there. Very often the other couple who live in the house come out and sit there too. They do not have chairs and sit on the porch steps. My husband gets up as soon as he sees them coming out and gives up his nice comfortable chair to the wife and spends the rest of the evening on the hard porch steps. I feel that it is not at all necessary in this case for him to relinquish his chair. We bought these so that we may sit comfortably and I don't see why he shouldn't be able to enjoy his chair. My husband thinks it would be very rude of him to sit and ignore the lady's discomfort. I would very

Two Irritated Working Gals Report Problem of Pinching

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: This letter is from two working girls with the same problem. I'm a receptionist for a large firm and my girl friend is a hostess in a restaurant. We both have trouble with overly friendly male customers.

One old gaffer who comes into our office every three weeks insists on shaking hands with me and I can't pry him loose. He pinches my cheek (which I can't stand) and sits on my desk and tells off color jokes.

When I complained to my boss he said, "It's your job to be nice to people. That's what you're here for. My girl friend got the same answer from her boss when she complained about the men who made passes. How about this? L AND M

Girls who meet the public in the line of duty, should have an understanding with the boss that they aren't sacrificial lambs who will put up with anything for the sake of "business".

Every woman, working or otherwise, should be able to lower the boom at her own discretion. If your employers don't see it this way, tell them to get some new girls.

DEAR ANN: This letter will be the most involved mess you ever heard of. Please stick with me. I'll try to keep it simple.

My husband was married to the World's Champion Tramp before he met me. They had two children. She admitted neither one was his. She was three months along when he married her and he didn't know he'd been played for a yokel until it was too late.

When he couldn't tolerate

Culbertson on Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

Since, for the past two days, we have been discussing penalty doubles, with particular reference to the average player's (and some experts') peculiar blind-spots in this field, let's take up still another phase of this matter.

Rather than generalize, let's trot out an illustrative hand immediately.

West, dealer.

This deal came up in an important tournament in England, conducted under international-match-point scoring, which is a combination of total points and the usual match-points familiar to all duplicate-bridge addicts. The bidding at one table went as follows:

Our theme here is North's decision to withhold a double of five clubs (which he certainly could count on beating and perhaps drastically) because he felt that the opponents were in the wrong contract and that they could do considerably better in hearts which they had already named.

This same reasoning, precisely, accounts for the withholding of doubles in millions of analogous cases, but this does not mean that the practice is wise or even discreet. To the contrary, in every thousand cases where the double is withheld because the enemy might find a much better contract, it is safe to say that in 900 of these deals there is no substantially better spot for the opponents—they are on the hook! Thus, the too-restrained doubler (or rather, non-doubler) collects 200 or 300 points time and again, when his loot should be 500 or 800 points.

Take this case. North knew that East and West were outstanding players. Presumably, then, they were convinced that a five-club contract represented their best chance. Why should North differ with them? True, he was the only one who knew that the club suit was going to break very badly for the enemy, but that sort of knowledge is surely not a good basis for declining to double!

Mother's Helper

by Helmann & Pearson

SENDING your children to their rooms when play becomes too overstimulating on sizzling days need not be punishment. Make the separation a treat, with a friendly attitude on your part, plus a suggestion for something different to do while they cool off — alone. They'll (secretly) welcome the change.

Use of Mat Under Swing Possibility

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Question: Is there any practical, inexpensive substance (safer for falls than cement or gravel) to put on the grassbare spots worn under children's backyard swings?

Answer: Have you thought of using a regular gym mat? These are available at dealers in gymnasium equipment (consult your classified telephone directory). I do not know of any material that can be put down permanently.

Brick Fireplace

Question: I have a red brick fireplace which seems to have lost its rich appearance. Is there any way I can brighten up the bricks?

Answer: First clean the brickwork by scrubbing with a stiff brush or steel wool and a mechanics' hand soap, containing sand. Rinse well with clear water to remove all traces of the cleaner. Allow ample time for thorough drying, then apply a soaking coat of raw linseed oil to the brick surface. After a half hour, remove any excess oil. This treatment may darken the color somewhat, but the color will be brightened.

Floor Tile

Question: An asbestos-vinyl floor tile laid about six months ago has pulled up. How do I get it to stick?

Answer: Force small quantity of tile adhesive recommended by manufacturer under pulled-up edges of tile. Then cover tile with flat, weighted board and do not disturb for several days until cement is thoroughly hardened. If entire tile loosened, remove old cement with putty knife or steel wool; then re-cement.

Hood Over Range

Question: How can I fasten securely a copper hood—over the gas range—to the wall? It is a shield affair. I had it fastened to the wall, but one side is not firmly attached; it hangs down.

Answer: Hardware dealers and housewares stores now carry special items for attaching objects to plaster walls. They are easy to use; manufacturer's instructions should be followed. Pegboard might be considered, too.

DEAR ANN: I'm a fellow 25 and not attractive. Several years ago I was serious about a girl who behaved like a perfect lady with me. My buddies teased me up to the fact that she was putting on an act and I was the only fellow in town who'd been fooled by her.

That experience opened my eyes. From now on when I date girls I screen them to see how far they will go. Without sounding like a braggart I would like to report that I've had phenomenal success. I'm no better than the girls, but my motives are different.

This whole thing has demonstrated that the vast majority of girls are available and I should not expect my bride to be the lily-white creature I've been dreaming of. You keep saying there are lots of nice girls around. Where are they?

BACHELOR

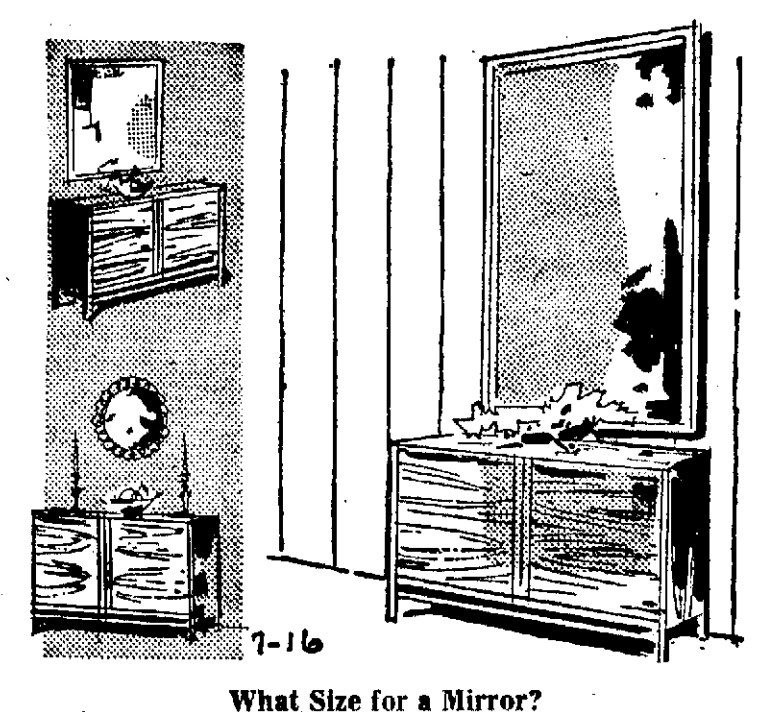

I should tell you—the way you behave? Nothing doing. I hate to burst your bubble, Romeo, but you've been having "phenomenal luck" because you've been going after fourth-rate girls. I suspect the first, second and third-rate ones will have nothing to do with you. Don't look now, but your subconscious is protecting you against "failure".

What Size for a Mirror?

A small mirror hung high over a large piece of furniture plainly misses in style. A larger one is better, but a truly generous shining expanse of mirror combines with the furniture in an effect of great style.

This briefly answers Mrs. N. W. N.'s question, which is concerned with mirror shape, too. "I've been conscious all along that a round framed mirror over a wide chest in our hall is all wrong, but I want to be sure I know what I'm doing before I replace it," she writes. "Do you suggest a rectangular mirror and how large should it be?" The sketches point out the effectiveness of the rectangular mirror and how large should it be. Mrs. N., as well as of comparative size. Take measurements of the chest along when you shop, and have the mirror made in the strikingly handsome right size if need be.

Mrs. O. S. "I would like to have our sofa slipcovered in blue, but I've been told that this isn't a good idea because blue fades more quickly than any other color. Is this true?"

One of the reasons blues are so popular today is because they, like other colors, are more fade-resistant than they used to be. Look for your slipcover fabric among fabrics by manufacturers who make good claims for them as to fade-resistance, to find which will hold the original color best.

Mrs. V. T. "Enclosed is a rough sketch of my living room with the furniture as it is arranged now. Will you please suggest a better arrangement that will keep the room from looking so crowded?"

Your sketch, like so many others received, does not show the exact room dimensions or the exact sizes of the furniture. Especially when crowding is the problem, size to the inch is very necessary information. It might be possible to place a sofa on a wall space if it is one size, for example, but not if it is only a few inches longer. That's why my Furniture Arrangement Kit is provided—it includes floor plan paper and instructions for drawing your own rooms on it, and furniture cut-outs that are in proportion to the floor plan. With these you can plan and experiment with the accuracy that is essential to coming up with the right answers. Please enclose 50 cents with your request for Elizabeth Hillyer's Furniture Arrangement Kit addressed to this newspaper.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kussmann (Laib Photo)

Golden Wedding Date Observed by Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kussmann, Star route, Marion, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday. They were married on June 18, 1908, but postponed their June anniversary celebration until July.

The Rev. E. Kraft officiated at their wedding which was held at St. John Lutheran church, Marion. Three of their four wedding attendants were present for the observance. They are Mrs. Jule Radtke, Clintonville, Louie Kussmann, Bear Creek, and Charles Westphal, Eland.

Mrs. Kussmann is the former Marie Westphal. At the time of her marriage she lived in Grant and Mr. Kussmann lived in Dupont. For about three years the couple lived in Marion, then they moved to their present farm home.

They have three sons, Emil, Appleton; E. W. Kussmann, Oshkosh, and Armin, Weyauwega, eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The Rev. Fred Ohlrogge paid special tribute to Mr. and Mrs. Kussmann in the Sunday morning service at St. John church. After the service, a dinner was served in the church dining room for family and guests.

Guest speakers at the dinner were the Rev. Mr. Ohlrogge and the Rev. George Durkop, Baldwin Mills, former pastor at St. John. Mr. and Mrs. James Byers, Marion, sang during the entertainment.

Sunday afternoon open house was held at the Kussmann residence for friends and relatives. A buffet supper was served.

Ninth Ward Polls Moved From Dairy To New Junior High

The election polling place for Ninth ward residents was changed Tuesday by the board of public works, effective with the November general election.

The new Madison Junior High school will serve as polling place for both precincts of the Ninth ward instead of Morning Glory dairy, 303 E. Calumet street.

Voters will use the dairy for the September primary.

Our Children

Youngsters' Shots Should be Spaced

BY ANGELO PATRI

School opens soon. Are the beginners ready? Most schools demand birth certificates, vaccination and other preventive measures as recorded by such certificates. If these are not presented on opening day the child will not be admitted and that might cost him a whole term in school.

"I don't believe in all this 'shot' business. They're dangerous. I know of a child who was made very ill after such shots and my child is not going to have them. That's all."

Experience is the best teacher and people who will not learn what experience teaches are likely to be sorry about the outcome. I remember too well how we school people dreaded certain times of the year when diphtheria struck the district and some of our children died of it. That is no longer a threat since the Schick tests were proven effective in its prevention.

Would any parent run the risk of having his child attacked by that terrible thing? When a test as simple as the Schick was offered him?

Consult Physician

Now we have the polio shots. When they were first introduced many parents reached for them for their children with joyful enthusiasm. That enthusiasm seems to be fading as the new crop of little ones appears. The new mothers need to be advised as to the necessity by their family physicians.

This long list of preventives does sound alarming, but if the mothers will consult their doctors they will take over and spread the shots and the vaccinations over the proper periods. In my experience the pediatrician who has been in charge of the child since his birth is the best one to take this responsibility. All the mother and father have to do then is to cooperate with him.

The season of the year for certain of these preventives is important. So again, the pediatrician is the one to say when. Mothers should plan with him ahead of time so that no child will enter school for the first time with a freshly vaccinated arm or leg.

News of the TWIN CITIES

Neenah - Menasha

Bell Cites $50,000 Saving on Station

Plans for 2-Story Building Have Not Been Accepted, Mayor Stresses

Neenah — Mayor Chester Bell Tuesday cited a possible saving of about $50,000 on a new police station and garage for Neenah, based on revised drawings presented to members of the city council, the police department and himself by Frank C. Shattuck, architect.

The new drawings, which show a 2-story building instead of the original single level plan have not yet been accepted, the mayor stressed in his address to the Neenah-Menasha Optimist club. "Many questions remain to be answered in discussions among the council, the police department and the architect," Bell said.

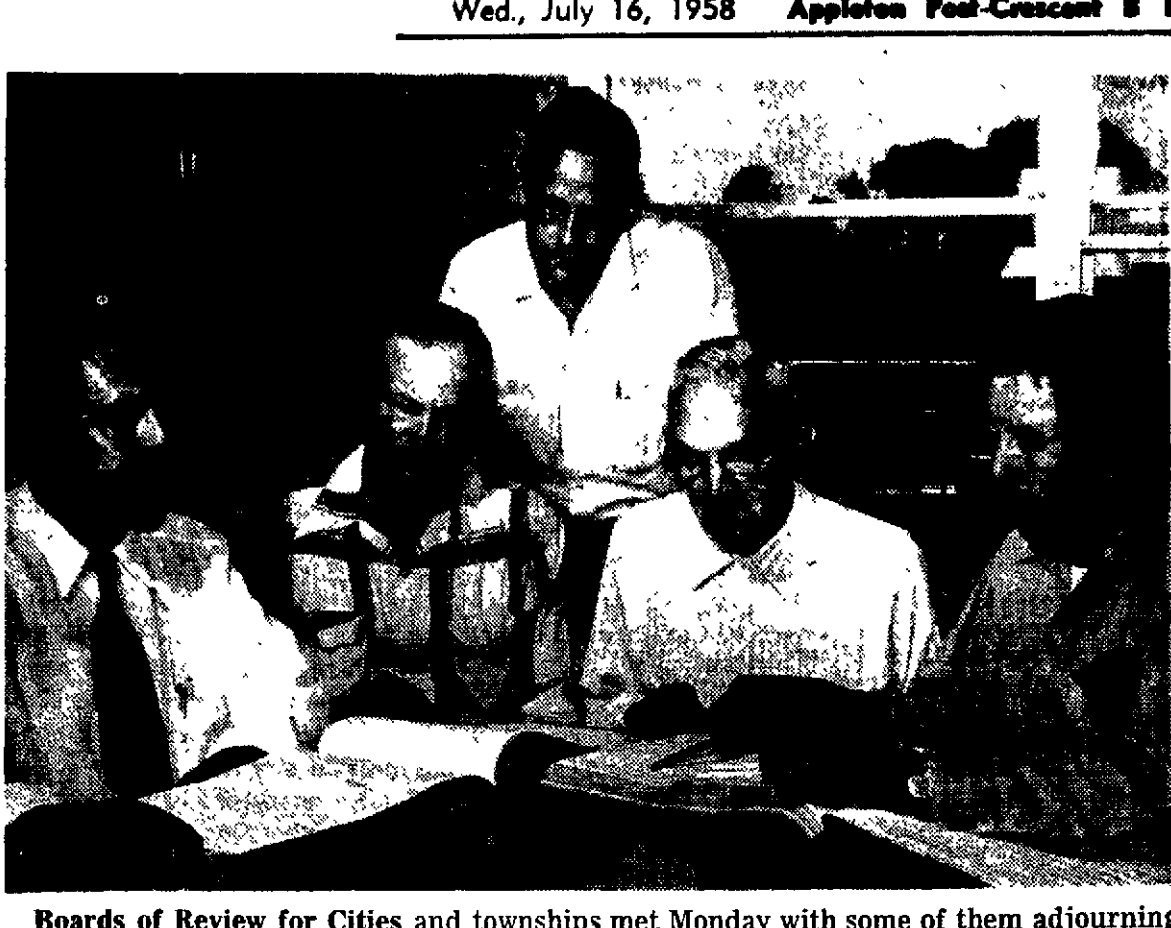

He noted that police officials have been highly critical of Shattuck's new proposal, partly on account of the traffic problem resulting from a 2-story building.

Shattuck's plans, presented as an alternative to the $270,000 plan accepted by the city council but turned down in a referendum several months ago, indicate that a new station can be erected for $186,967 and a police garage for $32,500. The total of $219,467 is $50,533 less than the original estimate.

The architect said that furniture, fixtures and equipment would cost about $11,812. This item was not included in the $270,000 bond issue referendum April 1, the mayor said.

The second plans show a reduction of about 25 per cent in floor space, largely effected by narrower corridors and slightly smaller rooms, the mayor said. The original plans showed 12,554 square feet in the basement and first floor. The newer plans show 9,427 square feet in the basement, first floor and partial second floor.

The second plans also show a larger second floor as an alternative, with an additional $5,181 cost.

Boards of Review for Cities and townships met Monday with some of them adjourning to later dates and others beginning a review of the assessment roll. Among those meeting was the town of Neenah's board of review shown above. ## Seeks Meeting With Recreation Board on Swim Pool Policies

Ald. Coughlin Requests Conference With Council This Week Regarding Complaints

Menasha — A joint meeting of the council and recreation board plus the new recreation director, Robert Vanevenhoven, was asked by Ald. Thomas Coughlin at Tuesday night's council meeting.

Coughlin said he had received several telephone calls about swimming pool policies and wanted a meeting with these people as soon as possible, preferably this week.

His motion to have the mayor or arrange such a meeting was approved. He did not indicate the nature of the complaints.

Boat Ramps

The street committee last week voted to maintain a public boat landing and launching ramp to Little Lake Butte des Morts at Ninth and Second streets. It also approved a 16-foot barricade, centered on Ninth street and about 30 feet west of the west curb line. The barricade would indicate it was a dead end street.

The police, fire, traffic and safety committee had suggested last week the parking regulations be left in the present status at the Ninth street site with the Second ward aldermen to suggest any change deemed necessary in the future operation of the dock.

Also recommended was construction of a shed at the rear of the fire station to house the police boat, trailer and motor.

Referred to the city attorney and ordinance and resolutions committee at the request of Ald. Edward Stinski was a proposal for load limit restrictions on various streets in the east end of the city.

Ald. Paul Laemmrich asked that Third street from Racine to Tayco streets be included in the load limits. The ordinance is to be presented at the Aug. 5 meeting.

Muffler Tester

Upon motion by Ald. Laemmrich, the mayor was instructed to investigate the cost of a decibel testing machine to check the amount of noise from car mufflers. He at first proposed the mayor be instructed to buy such a machine if the price was under $100 but this was changed when Ald. John Klein said the police budget had no money for such a purchase.

Mayor R. G. DuCharme in putting the motion misspoke and said the matter of the money was to be referred to the "finance company." Catching his error, he joked and said if the city didn't have the $100 for the machine, maybe it should be referred to the finance company. "We may need one."

Park Board to Submit Ordinance After Probing

Menasha — Members of the Menasha park board Monday agreed to study various ordinances and regulations governing parks in other cities in order to formulate a suggested park ordinance to govern Menasha parks.

The board also met with a council committee to discuss the lights at the ball park and decided to retain the present rates until the budget is discussed and a new rate for next year can be set.

Board members examined with Bob Vanevenhoven, recreation director, the mutual problems concerning activities of the recreation and park departments. The board gave authority to use the warming shed at Racine street park for recreational activities.

Bell to Insist On City Control Over Planning

Supports Regional Survey, Starting On Local Level

Neenah — Mayor Chester Bell Tuesday said he would insist that any planner undertaking a plan for future city growth in Neenah be responsible to the city and not to the Fox Valley Regional Planning commission.

The mayor voiced approval of city planning and of any regional planning that begins on the city level. He told members of the Neenah-Menasha Optimist club, "No plan for Neenah can disregard the legitimate interest of Menasha or vice versa, and as a plan is developed for Menasha it cannot ride roughshod over Appleton."

The current proposal seems to be merely a cooperative arrangement by which each separate community gets professional assistance to aid it in developing properly, the mayor said. "Since this appears now to be officially recognized and agreed, I have no desire to oppose the proposal in principle."

Bell explained his initial opposition to regional planning for the Fox Cities by noting that the area is a collection of individual communities, each with its own characteristics and each entitled to develop in its own way. "I can see no valid reason for subordinating Neenah to the limitations of a preconceived master plan which some outside agency may have decided is best for the entire area. I am the mayor of Neenah, and my first loyalty is to our city, not to the Fox river valley," Bell said.

Loses $6.20 Bond on Loose Dog Charge

Neenah — Ennis Boegh, 332 Second street, pleaded no contest to a charge of permitting a dog to run loose Tuesday afternoon before Police Justice Edmund P. Arpin, Jr. He forfeited a $6.20 bond after being found guilty. Boegh was arrested June 11.

Foundry Blaze Damage Moderate

Neenah — Fire caused moderate damage in the preheater room at Neenah Foundry, 500 Winneconne avenue, about 6 o'clock this morning.

Firemen, who extinguished the blaze in 15 minutes said that fuel oil overflowed in the heating unit, causing the fire. The preheater room is a chamber where air is heated before being injected into the foundry furnaces. Damage was mostly confined to the wiring in the room.

No estimate of loss was immediately available.

Change Limit For Parking

Allow 4 Hours for 10 Cents in Meters Along Broad Street

Menasha — Parking on Broad street between Milwaukee and Racine streets was extended to 24 minutes for a penny, two hours for a nickel and four hours for 10 cents by the council Tuesday night.

The council had ordered the meters changed earlier but did not change the ordinance until Tuesday night. The new times include all but the part near the post office on the north side of the street and between Racine street and the alley on the south side.

A refund of $161.52 from the $300 given by the council for the Memorial day activities was received by the council from Arthur Gutzmann, chairman of the program. The council voted to commend Gutzmann for his work in this and previous Memorial day celebrations.

Referred to the city attorney and insurance company was a claim of Robert H. Jones, 3753 Naymut street, for payment of damage to his car from a tree branch that had been cut down for the city and left on the street. The branch caught in his car bumper and pulled it off.

Merchants Plan Clearance Days

Neenah — Twin City merchants have made arrangements for the annual July clearance sales, scheduled for Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. The clearance days observation is sanctioned by the retail division of the Neenah-Menasha Chamber of Commerce.

Merchants have reduced prices on many consumer items to clear stocks before the arrival of fall merchandise.

Neenah Fire Chief Relected to Office

John Zick, Neenah fire chief, was reelected to a 3-year term as director of the Wisconsin State Fire Chiefs association at its annual 3-day convention which ended today in Manitowish.

Otto Stoegebauer, Oshkosh, was named association president.

Rubbish Collection

Neenah — Non-combustible rubbish will be collected Thursday in the Fourth ward east of the Soo Line railway tracks and in the Eighth and Tenth wards west of the Chicago and North Western railway tracks. Combustible rubbish is to be left at the curb on the regular garbage collection days.

Routine Check Leads to Catching Burglar in Act

Oshkosh — A 31-year-old Fond du Lac man, Gordon H. Slater, caught in the act of burglarizing the Joseph Stadtmueller and Company farm implement firm here this morning, is to be arraigned this afternoon before Municipal Judge S. J. Lohksinger.

Police are holding Clayton J. Goyer, 36, North Fond du Lac, on suspicion of burglary in connection with the same break-in.

Oshkosh police say Slater has signed a confession but that Goyer denies having any part in it. Slater was arrested about 1 o'clock this morning when Oshkosh police, in checking the building as a routine matter, noticed pry marks on the side of the service door.

They entered the building and turned on the lights. When they saw someone running along the side of a counter, they ordered the person to stop. When the person did not stop, the policemen fired a shot and then called for more help. Slater was found in a storage room, hiding behind a tractor tire. He denied getting any money and said he was alone.

Fond du Lac police reported they saw Slater getting into a car driven by Goyer at 11:40 Tuesday night and then saw the car head west on Highway 23. Goyer was stopped at 1:52 this morning, about a block south of the break-in scene, by police who had a description of his car.

He said he had left Fond du Lac at 9:15 for Antigo and was on his way home when stopped. He said he had not seen Slater since Monday.

Neenah — Cool, summer milk drinks, four varieties of pizza, cookies and cakes, civil defense and grooming were among the subjects selected by 28 Winnebago county 4-H girls participating in the annual demonstration contest Tuesday at the Winnebago Central school. Nine girls were named top demonstrators.

Demonstrations were judged on introductory material, selection of the topic, the grooming and appearance of the demonstrators, poise and confidence in presentation, emphasis of important points in the subject matter, workmanship, suitable equipment, the finished product and adequate answers in the questioning period.

Their basic recipe for matter, workmanship, suitable equipment, the finished product and adequate answers in the questioning period.

The pizza was made with two-thirds cup tomato paste, one-half cup water, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon oregano and one-eighth teaspoon pepper.

Four tablespoons of oil was used for the topping with variations being cheese and peppers, hamburger and onions, tuna fish, sausage, sardines, mushrooms and shrimp. The pizza is baked at 400 degrees for 25 minutes.

Judy Radloff won a placing with her demonstration on "A Show of Hands," with nail grooming as the subject. "Oatmeal in Cookies" was the topic of Gail Angell and "What's for Lunch," a demonstration on a well-balanced luncheon was presented by Kathleen Delleman. Accuracy in measurement was shown in a demonstration, "No More Flops," given by Fatsy Grimes and "Tuesday Is Ironing Day" was the selection of Karen Swenson. Susan and Sally Salm of the Mikesville club gave a team demonstration on "Apple Loaf Bread."

Milk Shake
Among the other individual demonstrations was "Banana-Pineapple Milk Shake," given by Christine Grimm of the Mikesville club. The recipe required two bananas, two and one-fourth cups pineapple juice and two cups, cold milk. Sweeten to taste. Mash the bananas, add the liquids and beat.

Menasha Legion Downs Little Chute 5-2 for 7th Straight Victory

Don Kaufert Hits Grand Slammer in Second; Tom Robinson Throws Five Hitter at Losers

Menasha — A five run second inning, highlighted by Don Kaufert's grand slam home run, enabled the Menasha Legion nine to coast to a 5-2 win over Little Chute at the Menasha ball park Tuesday night.

Five hit pitching by Tom Robinson also sparked the Lenz-Gazecki squad to its second straight win in Fox River Valley Legion league second round play and extended its winning streak to seven.

Kaufert's heroics came with Bob Jensen, Paul Meier and George Goetz on the sacks via singles. The drive fell over the right field fence, some 270 feet from home plate.

Menasha's Tom Rummel tallied the first run of the frame after he reached second on a two-base error by Little Chute third sacker Dick Hietpas, advanced to third on Jensen's one-bagger and crossed the plate on Meier's smash to left.

The Lenz-Gazecki stalwarts failed to score after the second inning as the Chuters Lloyd Romensko, who relieved starter and loser Owen Vanden Heuvel in the third, pitched fine baseball.

Romensko allowed three singles in the third and two in the fourth and then proceeded to set Menasha down in order in the next four innings. Right-hander Vanden Heuvel retired the winners in order in the first inning.

Robinson, a nifty right-hander, had the Chuters in check throughout the encounter. Little Chute's Bob Dietrich tallied in the fourth on an error and in the seventh Adrian Ebbesen stole home.

Four of the five hits off Robinson were singles and the other a double. The Chuters never got more than one hit in any inning.

Menasha committed four errors, three by second baseman Bill Gammy. Little Chute only had one miscue and came up with a double play in the third inning. Eight Lenz - Gazecki runners were stranded and the Chuters left 13 men on the sacks.

Macs' Seek Second Straight Win Over Valley All-Stars

Menasha — A second successive win will be in the minds of the Menasha Macs when they face the Fox River Valley Baseball league's all-star team at 8 o'clock Thursday night at the Menasha ball park.

The Macs bested the All-Stars 8-3 last year for Menasha's first win in three starts against the league's best. It also marked the first time a first-round champion had won the annual game since Greenleaf accomplished the feat in 1953.

Hero of last year's encounter was Mac hurler Mort Drury who set the stars down on five safeties. He is also slated to pitch this year's game. Evan Wiechmann drove three runs in with a double and Clem Massey smashed a bases-empty homer to supply Menasha's hitting power.

Shortstop Clem Massey will carry a .323 batting average into the game, the highest for the Macs. Other top hitters are Jack Konetzke .313, Manager "Butch" Konetzke .300 and John DeYoung .302.

Drury leads the Menasha pitchers with a 5-0 record. Vic Stenson has a 2-0 mark, Gene Gries 2-3 and Jack Konetzke with Carl Busch slugging a round tripper. Fountain garnered six hits and committed three errors.

Company I will meet the Recreation team at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Sixth street park.

Campfire Chefs Give Tips on Soup Service

Cook-out experts reach for the big iron soup kettle when picnic days come around. Turn back the pages to pioneer days and see how the soup kettle became a traditional campfire food. Kentuckians called it burgoo... a he-man soup of lamb, beef, heaps of vegetables. Other southerners grew up on Brunswick stew... with rabbit and tomatoes, butter beans and corn.

Much more lucky, today's campfire chief. He has soups at his command, ready and waiting in cans. Even the junkies or crowd carry cans of soup, for scout hikes and fishing trips. A can or so in the knapsack comes in mighty handy after the 10-mile trail.

Experienced outdoor cooks pass along these pointers on outdoor soup service:

Vacuum Bottle Style
Heating at home beforehand, and toting in a vacuum bottle starts you off to an outing with ready-to-serve refreshments. Soup carried this way will stay hot for five hours or more.

Cardboard Cup-Cartons
The containers with clamp-on lids (like those for ice cream) will keep soup hot for about an hour.

For best results, punch a small hole in the carton lid so steam can escape. Have a cup for each picnicker. These will keep hot even longer if stacked in an insulated carrier. So nice to start the picnic on... while the gang waits for the campfire if you're cooking other food.

For the soup picnic, you're all set with the hot dish, toasted bread, fresh fruit, doughnuts or cookies.

Campfire Chowder
1 can (1 1/2 cups) condensed beef noodle soup
1 can (1 1/2 cups) condensed Scotch broth
1 1/2 soup cans water
Blend soups and water; heat.

Beach-Party Burgoo
1 can (1 1/2 cups) condensed clam chowder
1 can (1 1/2 cups) condensed vegetarian vegetable soup
1 soup can water.
Mix soups with water; heat.

Cottage Cheese, Berries in Cantaloupe Good for Hot Day

BY EDITH M. BARBER

Most of us crave fresh, cool foods on a hot day. There are a few persons who insist, like the English, that hot tea is really cooling.

We will listen to them if we must, but we will not imitate them. At the midday meal we are usually inclined to choose our menu in reverse of the temperature.

That is when we enjoy a variety of the summer fruits, alone or in combination. We can make a satisfying meal with, for example, half of a chilled melon filled with cottage cheese and garnished with raspberries, strawberries or blueberries. We almost feel cooler when we see it in front of us.

The cottage cheese itself may be seasoned with savory herbs, minced chives or onion, or instead we may like to add orange juice with a little grated rind and perhaps a dash or so of lemon. Sugar may also be added.

Whichever type of cottage cheese you prefer, it will make a good filling. It may have a small or large curd, or may be the type which is known as "cream cheese." Sometimes we like to blend cream cheese or a small amount of grated cheddar with the mild cottage type of cheese.

Salad Meal
3 cantaloupe
2 cups cottage cheese
1 cup raspberries or other berries in season
1 cup pineapple wedges or other fruit in season
Fresh mint
Salad dressing, if desired
Wash chilled cantaloupe. Cut in half lengthwise or crosswise, and scoop out the seeds. Drain. Fill cavity with cottage cheese and surround it with fresh raspberries and pineapple wedges, or other fresh berries and fruit in season. Garnish with fresh mint. Serve with salad dressing, if desired.

Dessert Cantaloupe
Prepare cantaloupe according to Cantaloupe and Cottage Cheese Salad. Place halved cantaloupe on each serving plate. Fill centers with balls of lemon, raspberry or pineapple sherbet. If desired, two tablespoons sweet wine or Vermouth may be sprinkled over the sherbet.

Kools Brothers To Build $25,000 Office Addition

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — Kools Brothers, Inc., of Appleton has been granted a permit to erect a $25,000 office addition at its plant on County Trunk P in the town of Menasha.

The office will be 20 by 80 feet in size and of concrete block with brick facing. Alfred A. Bartel, route 1, Larsen, took a permit for a $3,500 home to be built in the town of Menasha.

Permits for mobile homes to be moved onto the premises were issued to Carl H. Hildebrand and Herman Hildebrand both of route 2, Neenah. The home cost was placed at $4,000 on the permits.

Carl Jacobsen, route 2, Neenah, was granted a permit to build a $300 machine shed at his town of Clayton farm.

Cabbage Parmesan

Saute one quart shredded cabbage in two tablespoons butter. When tender-crisp, sprinkle generously with onion salt and ground black pepper. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese just before serving. Enough for four to five servings. add dry milk 213 picnic edition

Bright Idea

Add Dry Milk to Sandwich Fillings for More Go-Power

A glass of milk and sandwiches are hardly a new idea. But, when the sandwiches actually contain a glass of milk, that is new.

The milk-sandwich is a new food idea which combines favorite sandwich fillings and instant nonfat dry milk in its dry form. Two milk-sandwiches are equivalent to an 8-ounce glass of milk with all of the B vitamins, calcium, phosphorus and protein of fresh pasteurized milk. With less than 1 per cent fat in dry milk, the milk-sandwich is welcome news to weight-watchers who still need milk in their diets.

Sandwiches, when combined with milk, make for quick and nourishing luncheons, picnic fare or handy snack suppers which all the family will enjoy. Sandwich fillings are almost unlimited. When combined with a variety of breads pretty enough for a party.

The addition of nonfat dry milk to fillings does not change either flavor or texture of the sandwich.

The following milk-sandwich suggestions are for the two sandwiches, the equivalent of an 8-ounce glass of milk. Quantities may be increased to meet family requirements.

Cheese on Rye
Mix together one-fourth cup of cheese spread and one-third cup instant nonfat dry milk. The spread may be a mixture such as olive-pimiento, bacon-cheese or pineapple and cheese. Spread thickly on rye bread, with lettuce if served at home, but without if taken to picnic grounds.

Honey-Peanut Butter
Mix four tablespoons of honey and one-third cup dry milk until smooth. Stir in two tablespoons of peanut butter until well blended. Spread on whole wheat bread.

Salad Sandwich
Have ham, chicken, tuna or egg salad prepared. Stir one-third cup dry milk gradually into salad mixture until well blended. Spread on whole wheat or white bread.

Deviled Ham
Mix 24-ounce can of deviled ham and one-third cup dry milk gradually until well blended. Spread on white or rye bread.

For Leftover Veal

When roast veal from Sunday dinner is left over, try teaming it with diced apples and celery and French dressing. Serve on crisp greens.

Neenah Man Charged With Non-Support

Oshkosh — Edward Pomrenning, 58, 318 Church street, Neenah, was arraigned Tuesday before Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger on a charge of non-support of a 17-year-old daughter.

He was supposed to contribute $10 a week to her support and is now $300 in arrears. Pomrenning contended he had been ill and unable to work for the last four weeks but said he will get a job.

Judge Luchsinger ordered him to pay $36 a month and adjourned proceedings until Aug. 22.

Picnics Popular

Picnicking has become the all-American pastime. According to a recent survey, it is estimated that 85 per cent of all United States families picnicked or ate meals out-of-doors last year. It was also estimated that they ate 1.3 billion meals.

Battle Provides Basis for Park Show

Braves, Soldiers To Clash; Stage Talent Performance

The program will open with a pantomime, "Indian Love Call," by William and Johanna Hedberg. Lynn Quick will give the flag salute.

The performance will portray the story of the Fox Indians who camped on the west end of Lake Butte des Morts and raided the boats of French trappers, one-time inhabitants. Lynn Quick, Bev Finch, Peggy Blohm, and Sandy Keberlein will be squaws. The French soldiers will be Thomas Allen Lewis, Ricky Rollins, Bill Resch, Claude Vandenhovel, and Tim Shannon, captain. ## Macs' Mort Drury to Start Against All-Stars Thursday

Menasha Eyes Repeat Win Over 'Stars

The Menasha Macs, first round champions, will seek their second straight win over the Fox Valley Amateur Baseball League All-Stars Thursday night in Menasha. Game time is 8 o'clock. In case of rain, the game will be played Friday.

The opening-day attendance plaque will be presented to Kaukauna League vice-president Bob Vanden Hogen, Little Chute, will be master of ceremonies of the brief pre-game ceremonies.

The Macs thumped the All-Stars, 8-3, last year. Lefty Mort Drury handled the Stars with a 5-hitter. Clem Massey and Manager "Butch" Konetzke paced the Macs' 11-hit attack with three and two safeties, respectively.

Konetzke has named Drury to fire against the Stars again Thursday. Drury is undefeated this year in league play with five wins. He has worked 45 innings in first round play, striking out 47 while walking 22.

Other Menasha hurlers ready for action are Vic Stenson (2-0) and Gene Gries, (1-1).

Drury, who completed his studies at Wyoming university this spring, will be opposed by John Strzyzewski of Manitowoc, who topped all pitchers in all-star balloting.

Strzyzewski posted a 6-1 first round record and was the only hurler to best the Macs (8-1) in that round.

Yvon Durelle Defends Title In TV Match

Montreal —(P)—Mike Holt, sleek-looking South African fighter, makes no bones about his plans to handle Yvon Durelle in their British empire lightweight title bout tonight.

"I'll wear him down," said challenger Holt with finality.

"If he wants to make a fight of it, I don't think it will go the limit. I'm not underestimating him but if there's a knock-out I think I'll be the one who scores it. I hear he's a wonderful hitter. I can hit, too."

The 12-round bout between Holt and the New Brunswick fisherman from Baie Ste. Anne is scheduled for 9 o'clock CDT, at the Montreal forum. The fight will be televised nationally in Canada and the United States.

Snider 1st to Clear Right Center Field Fence in Coliseum

Los Angeles —(P)—Many tried but no one did it until the "Mighty Duke" came through Tuesday night.

After months of frustration, Duke Snider of the Dodgers swatted a tremendous wallop over the right center field fence, deepest part of the Coliseum's much maligned ballpark.

The drive carried some 440 feet and came on a fast ball by righthander Ron Kline of the Pittsburgh Pirates. It was struck in a losing case however, the Pirates winning, 6-2.

Harness Races Return To Outagamie Fair

Purses to Total $3,600 for Weekend Events

The first trotters and pacers in a field of more than 70 are currently drifting into the Outagamie county fairgrounds' horse barn area as officials prepare for the first weekend of harness racing in two years.

Harness racing at the fair was abandoned last season for only the second time in at least 30 years. Public demand has brought the pacers and trotters back again this year.

Purses total $3,600 with the top purses about $860 in the 2-year-old pace and $660 in the 2-year-old trot.

Elimination Heats
A total of five events are on tap for both Saturday and Sunday. There will be two heats in both Saturday's 2-Year-Old trot and Sunday's 2-Year-Old pace.

There will probably be elimination heats in Saturday's 2:24 pace and Sunday's 2:24 trot because of the expected size of the field in the two events. One dash will constitute the event in the other three classifications each day: the 2:28 pace, 2:20 trot and 2:16 trot Saturday and the 2:22 pace, 2:18 pace, and free for all trot and pace Sunday.

Superintendent of Speed M. E. Shepherd, Seymour, who has directed harness racing at the fair each time it has been held during the last 30 years, expects big crowds both Saturday and Sunday.

Steelers Acquire Younger for High Draft Pick

Los Angeles —(P)—The Los Angeles Rams Tuesday traded veteran "Tank" Younger to the Pittsburgh Steelers for a high draft choice.

Younger, who came to the Rams nine years ago as a free agent from Gramling, La., college, ranks second among all the time Ram ball carriers. He lugged 682 times for 3,296 yards for an average of 4.8 yards, and ranks second only to Dan Towler, retired.

Red Sox Purchase Young Southpaw

Boston —(P)—The Boston Red Sox made another attempt to bolster a weak pitching corps today by purchasing young southpaw Edward O. "Ted" Bowfield from their Minneapolis farm in the American association.

To make room for the 22-year-old lefty from Penticton, B. C., the Red Sox optioned Bob "Riverboat" Smith to Minneapolis.

1,404 See Ted Pitch Five-Hitter

Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Ted Sadowski Tuesday night sent the Fox Cities Foxes' pitching stock zooming to a new high for the second half of the Three-1 league's split season.

The speed-balling, 6 - 2 right-hander, who anchored the staff in the early weeks of the season before falling victim to tough breaks and arm miseries, threw peas at Cedar Rapids batters for nine innings as the Foxes humbled the league leaders, 10-1.

The win enabled the Foxes to pull up into a third-place tie with Burlington and Davenport, who lost last night.

The decision was Sadowski's first complete-game victory since way back on May 3 (when he shut out the same ball club) and fifth win, overall.

Collect 13 Hits
Sadowski and his mates were on their best behavior with several hundred of their "bosses" in the stands. The 1-404 "Stockholders' Appreciation Night" fans watched the Foxes collect 13 base knocks and field errorlessly—sometimes brilliantly—in matching their widest previous victory margin of the season. (They had beaten Rochester, 13-4, May 20).

The win enabled the Foxes to split their 4-game series with the Raiders and to extend their season's edge over the tough Rapids crew to 9-6.

Tonight, Carlos Pascual, Pitcher Dick Griffith and Manager Pete Suder will represent the Foxes in the all-star game at Davenport. The team's next start is Friday night at Cedar Rapids.

Marr Homers
The Foxes' offensive—which produced one or more hits in every inning—was spearheaded by Pascual, Jim Nisewonger and John Marr. Pascual and Nisewonger each cracked three hits and drove in two runs. Marr—playing in the outfield for Jim Hall—hit a 2-run homer.

Pascual, the Cuban clubber who threatens to make a walk-away of the league batting race, hiked his average to a ".382." "Potato" is now 8-for-9 in his last two games. After going 5-for-5 the previous night, Pascual cracked a hard grounder down the third base line in his initial turn last night. Only fine,

Rita Houston Bids For Fossum's Title

Wins, 3 and 1, in Semi-Finals; Champion Beats Kathie Martin

(Special To Post-Crescent)
Sheboygan — Hoping to regain the championship she relinquished last year, Mrs. Ken (Rita) Houston of Appleton Butte des Morts faced defending champion Mary McMillin Fossum of Green Bay Oneida in the finals of the Northeastern Wisconsin Women's golf tournament today.

The two women were scheduled to play 36 holes on the hilly, demanding Pine Hills Country club.

Judy Manier, Menasha North Shore, met Pine Hills' Marlene Steffen in the junior championship finals. Tuesday, Judy defeated Mary Ann Testwuide, Pine Hills, on the nineteenth hole.

Mrs. Houston defeated Mrs. Fossum in 1956 en route to her title. However, the Green Bay veteran came back to take the crown in 1957 and was a slight favorite to win today despite Mrs. Houston's superior scores of the last two days.

Both live in Green Bay.

Mrs. Houston eliminated Rebecca Nause of the host club in her Tuesday semi-final — by the same 3 and 1 score by which Mrs. Fossum won over young Kathie Martin of Rhineland.

The long-hitting BDM swinger won her first hole with a par five and increased her margin to 2-up on the fifth hole. Trading wins on the next four holes, she was 2-up at the turn.

When she won the twelfth, her lead climbed to 3-up.

Turning point of the match probably was on the fifteenth hole where, facing almost sure defeat, Rita chipped in from off the green to gain a half — a vital one since Mrs. Nause birdied the sixteenth to cut the lead to two holes. But Mrs. Houston won No. 17 when her opponent had to gamble and hit water and the match was over.

She shot an 85 to Mrs. Nause's 90.

Mrs. Fossum shot an 88 in hurling 18-year-old Kathie Martin. She won the first two holes, was still 2-up at the turn, and was 4-up by the twelfth hole. A par on the seventeenth clinched victory for her.

Results involving other Fox Cities area golfers:
First flight — Judy Verrier, Ridgeway, defeated Kay Anhalt, Manitowoc, in 19 holes to reach finals vs. C. A. Lawton, Green Bay.

Champ. consolation — Helen August defeats Kine Icks, Green Bay, 2-up to reach finals vs. Mary Johnson, Stevens Point.

7th flight — Beulah Malinsky, BDM, defeated Mrs. I. T. Steffeke, Oneida, 3-up.

8th flight — Eve Farver, BDM, defeated Marion Friedrick, Manitowoc 4-3.

9th flight — Verda Ayers, BDM, defeated Mrs. T. O'Meara, West Bend.

Record Field Possible For City Golf Tourney

Thursday Evening Is Deadline For Entries

With the entry deadline only a day away, a record field for the Appleton City golf tournament is in sight.

A total of 113 entries (90 in regular division and 23 juniors) had been received as of Tuesday. The tourney record is 117.

The absolute deadline for entering the twelfth annual tourney is 7 o'clock Thursday night, according to Laymon Doc' Wonsor, member of the tournament committee. No late entries will be accepted at the tee this year, Wonsor reports.

The 18-hole qualifying rounds will be played Saturday and Sunday, on the Reid Municipal course.

The low 31 scorers will join 1957 champion "Syl" Bayer in the championship flight. Remaining golfers will also be grouped into flights.

Matches leading up to the championship finals will be played during the next five weeks. The finals are scheduled for Sunday, Aug. 24.

Entries may be filed either at the Muni clubhouse or at the Appleton Recreation department office. The tourney is co-sponsored by the ARD and the Appleton Municipal Golf association. The entry fee is $2.50 in the regular division and $1.50 for juniors. (16 and under).

Joey Jay's Four-Hitter Keeps Braves in Front by Half-Game

St. Louis —(P)—Former bonus baby Joey Jay, now a big, strong pitcher, rang up another dividend for the Braves Tuesday night as Milwaukee slugged its way to a 4-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Hank Aaron hit two home runs and Wes Covington socked one as Milwaukee hung on to its half game lead over the San Francisco Giants in the National league race.

While besting veteran Sal Maglie, Jay allowed only four hits in claiming his fourth victory against three defeats. But he said:

Some Other Pitcher
"I was lucky to get away with it this trip. I was the wildest I've been all year. I kept getting behind all the hitters. Then I'd change my pitching. If the fast ball didn't work, I'd shift to the curve. If the breaking stuff wasn't working, I'd try a change."

The record shows that Jay, in his self-analysis, could have been talking about some other pitcher. He gave up only one hit in the last five innings, walked only five and struck out eight, including the last four Cards to face him.

Maglie, charged with his third loss against two triumphs, lasted five innings, allowing five hits and all the Milwaukee runs. The Braves managed only one more hit off his successors, "Chuck" Stobbs, Phil Paine and Bob Mabe.

After getting the Braves in order in the first inning, Maglie, 41, found Aaron the first man at the plate in the second. The right fielder promptly drilled his sixteenth homer of the season into the left field stands.

The Braves went out in order in the third, and Aaron returned to the plate to open the fourth. Again he homered into the left field seats for his second of the game and seventh of the year.

Covington, who had singled in the second, followed Aaron to bat, and blasted a tremendous, 420-foot homer into the center field pavilion seats for his fourteenth of the year.

Makes Diving Catch
After Jay struck out in the fifth, Mel Roach walked, Johnny Logan doubled and Ed Mathews walked to fill the bases. Aaron blasted a liner to left, but Joe Cunningham made a diving catch of the smash, which was scored as a sacrifice fly and allowed Roach to score.

St. Louis took a shut out away from Jay in the fourth on

Jensen Powers 27th Homer as Red Sox Beat Kansas City

By The Associated Press
Frank Lary, the pinball addict who makes lights flash and buzzers hum when he throws his knuckleball against New York, is practically a clinch to become the first pitcher in 14 years to beat the Yankees six times in one season.

The 27-year-old Detroit right-hander had no real trouble beating the Yankees, 12-5, Tuesday. That was his fifth over the American league leaders this season.

No one has beaten the Yankees six times in one year since 1944, when a pair of Tiger aces, oddly enough, did it. "Dizzy" Trout was 6-0 and Hal Newhouser 6-2 against New York that year.

Fred Steger was safe on an error to open Kaukauna's ninth. After Jerry De Bruin walked, Leroy Weyenberg singled into the infield to load the bases.

Steger was forced out at home on Terry Sharron's hit, and Tom Frank struck out, but Oshkosh pitcher Boese walked Bruck Vanevenhoven to force in the run.

Ron Mueller led the Oshkosh attack with a double in the sixth and a triple in the third, starting a scoring spree each time.

Tony Van Zealand, who was tagged for the loss, started for Kaukauna on the mound and worked seven innings, giving up four runs on eight hits and striking out four. Frank finished the game, allowing two runs on two hits and striking out one. Neither walked a man.

Winning pitcher Boese went all the way, struck out eight and walked two, both in the ninth.

Frick Tells Senators Baseball Needs Binding TV-Radio Rule

Washington — Commissioner Ford Frick told senators today that baseball desperately needs the power to curb TV-radio broadcasts of its games. Otherwise, he said, the sport faces destruction.

Frick pictured major league telecasts as a "major contributing cause" of the minors' rapid decline in popularity.

He said the majors and minors depend on each other to stay in existence.

Some May Deviate
But he cautioned that without a binding TV-radio rule some clubs may "deviate from the desired line" and continue to beam their games into minor league cities regardless of the consequences.

Frick testified before the senate anti-monopoly subcommittee which is weighing house-passed legislation to grant pro-baseball, football, basketball and hockey broad exemptions from anti-trust laws.

George Trautman, head of the minor leagues, also was called as a witness today.

Frick went over baseball's problems from beginning to end, testifying upon other topics that:

1. Expansion of the major leagues is inevitable. He once thought a third league was the most likely method, but is now convinced that it "will first come as an expansion of the existing leagues."

2. Legislated exemptions are necessary to protect baseball against a reversal of supreme court rulings that the national pastime is now immune to the anti-trust laws.

PGA Makes Decision on Bolt Tonight

Observers Expect Tom to Be Warned But Not Suspended

Havertown, Pa. — Are they going to lower the boom on trigger-tempered Tommy Bolt?

This question took priority over the usual pre-tournament gripes about the course and weather today as the country's top professionals tuned up for the National PGA Golf championship, opening Thursday.

Bolt, on probation since last January and hit with a $500 fine for bad conduct, has been called on the carpet of the Professional Golfers association executive committee tonight to plead his case.

Big Drawing Card
If he can't convince the 15-member committee that he deserves another chance, he likely is to be barred from PGA-sponsored competition for from a few months to a year or more.

Most observers, however, expected the on-again, off-again club thrower to get no more than a severe dressing-down and a warning.

Bolt is the National open champion. Recent publicity has made him perhaps the biggest drawing card in the game. It is figured the PGA can't jeopardize the success of its own championship by putting him on the sidelines.

Howard Hits 25th Homer in 7-2 Win Over Burlington

By The Associated Press
Green Bay's Frank Howard and Carlos Pascual of Fox City demonstrated Tuesday night why they were named to the starting lineup in tonight's Three-I league all-star game at Davenport.

Howard hammered his twenty-fifth homer as Green Bay Bluejays won 7-2, sweeping its 4-game series with Burlington. A crowd of 2,252 watched Howard also lift his league-leading runs-batted-in total to 83. The victory was Jim Steinhour's fifth without a loss.

Winona beat Davenport, host team in the all-star game, 5-3, for the second straight time with Tom McDonald's three singles and a double doing most of the damage.

Davenport, winner of the first half of league play, was led by Dick Lombardi, who hit in his twelfth straight game. At the all-star break, Cedar Rapids has a one-game edge over Green Bay with Fox Cities, Davenport and Burlington all tied for third, 4½ games behind.

Braves Hold Secret Post-Game Meeting

St. Louis — The Milwaukee Braves clinched their neat 4-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Tuesday night with a bit of mystery by locking out the press and calling a post-game meeting.

There were, of course, no smiles from the defeated Cardinals as they trooped into their dressing room at the close of the affair, but there weren't any from the victorious Braves either.

And there was no report on what was discussed, except that it was confidential.

Talks About Wes
There was a bit more information from Cardinal Manager Fred Hutchinson who talked about the hitting of Milwaukee's Wes Covington, apparently to take his mind off the batting failure of his slumping Redbirds.

In cracking his fourteenth homer of the season, Covington drove the ball 420 feet over the wall in deep right center.

Hutchinson said: "Did you see Covington cream that one? He hit that ball like you would a golf ball."

Circus to Make First Fox Cities Appearance

A 3-ring circus founded in Appleton will make its first appearance in the Fox Cities this week.

The Adams Brothers circus, put together last winter by the William A. Griffith family, Appleton, will appear in Appleton, Neenah, Kaukauna and Oshkosh for two performances at each spot. It will open Wednesday at Winnebago county fairgrounds, Oshkosh, move to Neenah High school athletic field Thursday, play at the Dodge street athletic field in Kaukauna Friday and conclude its Fox Cities tour Saturday at Outagamie Speedway, near Apple Creek.

Performances are scheduled for 2:30 each afternoon and 8 o'clock each evening. All children 12 and under will be admitted free.

The 19-act bill of fare, features aerial artists, high wire performers, clowns, ponies, Alaskan huskies, jugglers, and Little Bertha, a 10-year-old Indian elephant. A snake pit side show, pink cotton candy and a circus band also are offered.

Show Features

Featured performers will include the Skating Carltons; Bozo the clown; the Frisco's, a wire act; McCall's military ponies, Australian whip manipulators, and clowns. Many of the acts have performed with Ringling Brothers and other large circuses.

The Griffiths — William Jr. and William Sr.—began the circus last November as an indoor revue troupe performing at holiday parties for industry. Encouraged by the tour's success, they decided to enlarge their revue into a full-fledged circus. Setting up winter headquarters on the Anton Wickesberg farm, route 1, Appleton, they purchased the farm by elephant—trained on the farm by the show's Czechoslovakian animal trainer—and spent the winter months preparing for an April launching into big-time circus business.

3 Drivers Deny Traffic Charges

Three motorists Tuesday in municipal court denied traffic charges.

David Longsine, 22, 1414 Elm street, Kimberly, denied he followed a car too closely and caused an accident. He posted $38.95 for trial Sept. 4.

Longsine was arrested after his car smashed into the rear of one in which four teenage girls were riding early Friday morning on County Trunk S near Stephenville.

Mrs. Marie Jentz, route 1, Hortonville, posted $13.95 for trial Sept. 4 on a charge of failing to yield the right-of-way. Police said she parked on the wrong side of County Trunk O in the town of Ellington Saturday, made a U-turn and forced a truck off the road and into a power pole.

Ervin H. LaBudde, 56, 1415 S. Northland avenue, posted $18.20 for trial Sept. 4 for failure to yield the right-of-way. He was not involved in an accident.

Clowns, Aerialists and Pink Cotton candy will be in evidence this week as the Adams Brothers circus, an Appleton concern, performs in the Fox Cities. The circus will show at Winnebago county fairgrounds at Oshkosh today, travel to Neenah High school athletic field Thursday and be at the Dodge street athletic field in Kaukauna Friday. The series of performances ends at Outagamie Speedway, near Apple Creek, Saturday. Shows are slated for 2:30 each afternoon and 8 o'clock each evening.

Youth Denies He Set Straw Afire

Robert VanBoxtel, 19, route 2, West DePere, Tuesday denied he helped three other youths set fire to a straw stack in Freedom last August, causing about $50 damage. The other three youths were fined early this year.

Dist. Atty. George Greisch explained to Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmiede that VanBoxtel's attorney told him VanBoxtel was sitting in the car and objected to the arson charge.

VanBoxtel posted $53.95 for trial Nov. 17. He was not tried with the other three youths because he was in military service.

tion investment in those bases. It is likely, however, the U.S. government could stand the loss more than Morocco could take the loss to its economy.

The Moroccan labor federation and its left-wing allies in the ruling istiglal party are pouncing on the issue of U. S. bases in their attempts to seize more political power. The left-ists are likely to break with istiglal and form a socialistic opposition party known as the Moroccan labor party.

Left-wingers have been ex-cluded from high places ever since Balafrej became premier in May. Balafrej, as the party's secretary general, is rapidly losing control over the left-wing elements.

If the left-wing movement becomes stronger—and the an-ti-U. S. slogans become louder—to stay in power the govern-ment may have to take up the demand that the United States get out.

U. S. bases, about the labor leaders, are "just another kind of imperialism." The leaders charge that U. S. bases endan-ger the Moroccan people because atomic bombs allegedly are being stored here.

On the one hand labor lead-ers demand higher wages for Moroccan base workers, and on the other demand that the bases be closed—throwing the 8,000 workers out of jobs.

The leftists theorize that the closing of the bases will not affect the influx of U. S. aid. On the contrary, they figure they will be in a better bargain-ing position.

As one hardened expert in Arab ways puts it, the Moroc-cans will deal with the United States this way:

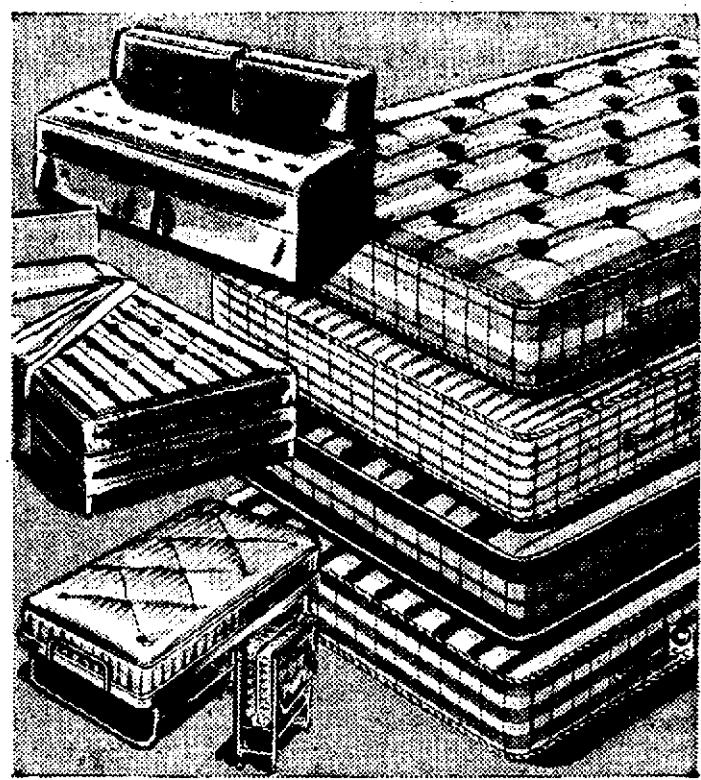

"How many dollars will you give us if we don't go over to the other side?"

Brown County Worker Killed in Accident

Anti-U. S. Feeling Grows in Morocco

Once Friendly Nation Now Ringing With Cries of 'Yankee Go Home'

Rabat, Morocco —In Mo-roc-co—one of America's oldest friends—the cries are going up: Yankee go home . . . imperialism . . . exploitation . . . "koon-boola dooria" (atomic bomb). They emanate from leftwing-ers, a political faction left out in the cold by King Moham-med V and the new moderate government of Premier Ahmed Balafrej. It seems the United States is caught in the cross-fire between the political out-groups and the political ins.

The United States has been on close, friendly terms with the North African nation for 172 years. Morocco was one of the first foreign governments to recognize the United States—in 1786.

The United States now has five big air bases here, used by the strategic air command. They employ 8,000 Moroccans whose wages amount to $4 million a year. The bases pump about $60 million a year into the Moroccan economy. In ad-dition, the U.S. government has turned over $50 million in eco-nomic aid since April 1957.

Ironically, the demand is in-creasing that all this come to a halt. Morocco's government is unhappy about it. Not only does it threaten Morocco's econ-omy, it threatens Balafrej's government.

If the pressure gets too tough the United States could pull out of the five bases here with-lit this North African nation for 172 years. Morocco was one of the first foreign governments to recognize the United States—in 1786.

The United States now has five big air bases here, used by the strategic air command. They employ 8,000 Moroccans

125 Attend Annual Grasslanders' Picnic at Brillion

Brillion — Approximately 125 people attended the annual Wisconsin Grasslanders' picnic at the Brillion Iron Works park Sunday.

The group is an organization of farmers who have taken part in the statewide grassland farming program and in many cases won awards.

Vic Buralow, University of Wisconsin agronomist in charge of the grassland program, and Orrin Berge of the College of Agriculture, Madison, were the speakers. Current trends in grassland farming, forages and farm machinery were included in the discussion. After the program the Brillion Iron Works farm ma-

Elmer Federwitz, Leonard Woelfel, Melvin Buboltz and Albert Kees were in charge of the arrangements.

Host of Projects, Charges Will Go to Council Tonight

A 2-inch asphalt mat for E. Calumet street between S. Oneida street and S. Kernan avenue is the largest project to undergo a final hearing before the city council tonight.

The board of public works proposes to collect $9,389.45 of the $24,221 construction cost through special assessments equal to $2.34 a front foot for property zoned commercial and residential.

Asphalt mats of 14-inch thickness are proposed for eight residential streets, all but one in the Buchholz addition on the far south side. The work will cost about $39,212.40, of which the board hopes to collect $19,855.14 through special assessment equal to $1.40 a foot for commercial property and $1 a foot for residential property.

Curb, Gutter

A total of $47,279.82 in curb and gutter work is proposed on 15 streets. The board hopes to return $36,844.91 through a $1.70 a foot assessment.

Grading and graveling in connection with the curb and gutter projects will cost $18,491.40. Assessments equal to $25,732.51 are proposed. Charges vary between $2, $1.74 and 96 cents a foot.

Turnover, oiling and double sealcoat are proposed for two streets at a cost of $833.28, of which $806.72 will be returned through a 64 cents a foot assessment.

Grading and graveling two streets, independent of curb and gutter work, is proposed. The work will cost $1,100, of which $1,303.34 will be returned through $2 a foot assessment.

Sokolsky Urges Congressional Investigation of Tax Evasion

BY GEORGE SOKOLSKY

There are vast differences of opinion as to whether American businesses should traffic with red China, but the law of the land is that they should not. Evasion of that law may not be as punishable as larceny or murder but the moral implication is that when it comes to the dollar, some businesses, no matter how big or headed by what noble names, will stoop to the procedures of Al Capone, a bootlegger and a hoodlum. And they find lawyers and accountants to do their thinking and planning.

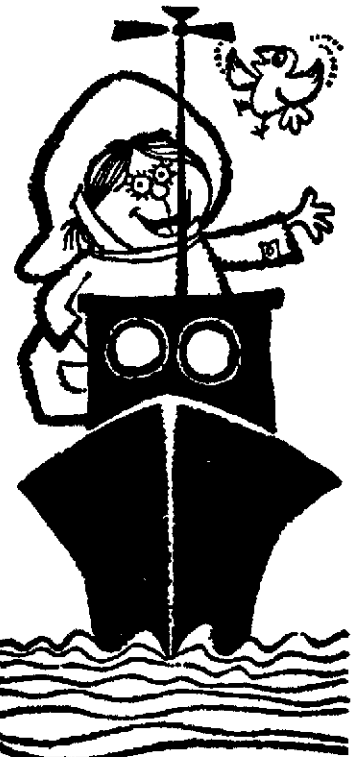

So we find American firms establishing subsidiaries across the border in Canada with many objectives of law evasion, one of them trade with red China, a trade which is for an American strictly contraband. At issue is the law, not the correctness of trading with red China or with any other country whose trade the United States rejects. If, as is clearly evident in the plethora of American deposits in Canada, Switzerland, Panama, Venezuela, Liberia and other tax havens, there is a flight of capital from the United States, it is responsibility of our government to make known its nature, to take either corrective or retaliatory measures, to face up to the facts. Instead of a congressional committee wasting time on Goldfine's private life, which is a bore, it might inquire into what has happened to the American hoard of gold at Fort Knox and why. Then it might suggest remedial legislation.

Silly Performance

Or does that require too much intelligence for a committee whose investigator puts a microphone under a door—a silly performance suitable for small boys playing cops and robbers? To investigate the gold question requires economists, not cops.

In the quarrel between Cyrus Eaton and George Humphrey, the two major iron ore tysons of Canada, both citizens of the United States and residents of Cleveland, Ohio, the entire drama of the movement of American capital out of the United States is unfolded. It shows not only the development and exploitation of commerce and industry in foreign countries but also the constant

THE TUNA PACKED Quicker off the Clipper

BREAST-O'-CHICKEN TUNA COMES TO YOU FRESHER, LIGHTER, TENDER

Tuna at its finest must be tuna at its freshest. We operate our own tuna fleet. That means we pack the tuna faster—you get tuna that tastes fresher, moister, tender.

Solid Pack or Chunk Style, Wholesome Light search of Americans for tax havens, for the protection of their investments from taxation by the government of the United States.

Unsuccessful Attempt

It has been impossible to find a congressional committee that will devote the time and money to make a thorough and meaningful investigation of this subject. Each attempt in this direction dies aborning because powerful influences are at work. The last attempt was made by a subcommittee of the senate judiciary committee. Although some data was gathered, it all came to nothing because when witnesses were called, no senator could be found to attend the hearings. The transcript of the record of the Byrd committee provides considerable data but it is incomplete and hidden away in heavy volumes. This committee is undoubtedly on the right track, but work is too slow. Incidentally, this senate finance committee has not reported out the Forand bill, passed by the house, which is designed to correct certain major errors in our trade relations with Canada.

In a word, here is a broad subject which cannot be washed away by rapid oratory. It requires study and research. All the facts are not available and cannot be made available except by the authority of the subpoena. Even the subpoena is not sufficient to get at data concerning secret hoards of untaxed American money; it may be necessary to take strong diplomatic steps, perhaps to go to the extreme of breaking off commercial relations with countries that enter into conspiracies with American citizens to help them evade tax payments to our government. What it means is that every time one of these evaders succeeds, you and I have to pay more taxes. Even from the most selfish standpoint this is a matter of enormous interest to every American because each one of us finds his tax bill unbearable and brutal. There are those who believe it is a mark of real cleverness for lawyers and accountants to show their clients how to evade paying taxes (they usually use the word "avoid" instead of "evade"), but for most of us,

Klondike Kate's Ashes Still Held By a Mortician

Sweet Home, Ore.—The ashes of Klondike Kate Van Duren, the famous dancehall girl of the Alaskan gold rush who died at her home here last year, never were scattered over the Sisters wilderness area in central Oregon as her will requested.

Her husband, William Van Duren, died before the request could be carried out. Now, the ashes are held by a

Bases Deadline for Nomination Papers On Daylight Time

Salem, Ore., mortician with authority to carry out the will's decree or authorize someone else to.

But so far, no one has stepped forward to pay the cost of following Klondike Kate's final request.

Kate, jealously proud of the good name she acquired in the days of the sourdoughs, filed a number of lawsuits in her later years against fiction writers she said had misused it.

John D. Winner, deputy attorney general, issued the opinion Monday to Dist. Atty. George Thompson of La Crosse county.

Thompson has asked whether the deadline for filing nomination papers was 5 p. m. daylight saving time or 5 p. m. central time.

Winner said one section of the Wisconsin statutes specifies central standard time as the official state time. However another section of the statutes specifies daylight saving time during a limited portion of the year.

Brain Twisters

Time to Eat

There's something to EAT in each one of these words. The idea is to add the letters in the word EAT to each group of letters in this list, rearrange, and spell out different items of food. For example, by adding the letters in EAT to PUN, you can spell out PEANUT. Now, add the letters in EAT to the following and come out with some tasty edibles:

1. CHIKOR.
2. LOMA.
3. KURSARU.
4. COLHOC.
5. LACPUNO.
6. SPIGHT.
7. STOOP.
8. LERMOWN.
9. BLALM.

Lesson in English

Words often misused: "Just" in the intensive sense of "simply" or "quite" (as, "just terrible") is colloquial, and should be avoided.

Often misspelled: Excerpt; observe the "c."

Synonyms: Equivocal, questionable, doubtful, dubious, ambiguous.

Word study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day.

Today's word: mountebank; one who mounts a bench in a public place and sells quack medicines; any boastful and unscrupulous pretender; a charlatan. (Pronounce mountebank, accent first syllable). "Nobody but a faker and mountebank would peddle such worthless remedies."

To Your Good Health

Perspiration Important To Health Dr. Molner Says

By Dr. Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I have tried all kinds of cream deodorants and anti-perspirants and still no luck. I perspire a lot under the arms. It is very embarrassing at times and I've ruined a lot of dresses. Is there anything I can do to check it a little? I know you can't stop it completely.—C.P.F."

You wouldn't want to stop it completely. Perspiration is one of the important functions of health. Keeping your temperature at or close to the familiar 98.6 degrees is just one of these functions.

The anti-perspirants, by and large, are pretty good, but they aren't foolproof. They can't always do the whole job.

In this I'm speaking from personal experience as well as observation. I'm not slum-jim myself, and the huskier people have more trouble than the beanpoles. It's understandable, of course.

Nervous Pressure
For another thing, the nervous pressure under which you live most decidedly has something to do with the problem—the pressure, and how you react to it.

I don't mean that you necessarily are jumpy or jittery. The sympathetic or autonomic nervous system, has a great deal to do with the problem. That is the system which controls the actions over which we have no voluntary control—perspiring, blushing and such.

Therefore when the situation is extreme, it is quite possible that your physician may see fit to prescribe certain drugs which to some extent will suppress that nervous activity. I'm deliberately not naming any of the drugs. I wouldn't want anybody fooling around with them and getting into any trouble because of not knowing how to use them properly.

And one other remedy, perspiration pads, which can be folded over the armhole of a coat or dress, or pinned or temporarily stitched in place, are distinctly useful. Either men or women can use them. They don't stop perspiration, of course, but they will absorb it, and you can use them and throw them away instead of getting clothing soaked.

Tattoo Marks
"Dear Dr. Molner: Can tattoo marks be removed?—W.R." Yes, but it's quite a trick, and sometimes it is extremely difficult to get rid of the marks entirely. That's one good reason why girls especially should avoid tattoos. Ask your doctor to refer you to a suitable specialist. He'll most likely advise a plastic surgeon, although some dermatologists (not all) handle such cases.

Conferees Agree On Space Agency

Washington — Senate conferees agreed Tuesday on a bill creating a new civilian agency to handle space research and activities.

The principal difference between house and senate versions of the legislation was on the question of policy direction. This was settled by creation of a high-level policy-making council to be headed by the president.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said this met with the personal approval of President Eisenhower.

The new agency, to be called the national aeronautics and space administration, will come into being within 90 days after the bill becomes law.

Food Storage Habits Affect Efficiency of Electric Refrigerator

Basic Hints Given To Help Appliance Do Its Best Work

In the summertime, the refrigerator, that workhorse of the kitchen, gets jammed to capacity with fresh fruit, vegetables, cold meats, iced drinks, salads, and desserts. Help it do a better job by following a few sound but basic storage practices and cleaning methods.

Your refrigerator is like a filing cabinet and stuffing foods into it haphazardly is just as inefficient as tossing correspondence helter-skelter into the files. In the modern refrigerator-freezer, there's a place for everything, and by developing systematic storage habits, it will be easier for you to find what you want when you want it.

Make it a rule to always allow cooked dishes, including leftovers to cool to room temperature before putting them away. If put away while still hot, they will heat up the refrigerator and make it work twice as hard to cool itself off again.

Another good habit to develop when getting ready to prepare a meal is to try to take as many of the needed items out of the refrigerator at one time. Then you won't have to keep opening the door over and over. The same holds true when putting things away after a meal.

The more often the door is opened and the longer it stands ajar while a particular item is searched out of the jungle of miscellany, the harder the refrigerator has to work. Make the most of your refrigerator's special compartments. Eggs should go from the grocery store to the egg rack on the door; uncooked fruits and vegetables into the vegetable bin; uncooked meats, fowl, or fish into the fresh meat container.

In hot weather, fresh meats that are to be kept more than a day or two are best stored in the freezer section. Fresh ground meat, fish, liver, kidneys, and such variety meats particularly should be used within the day of purchase or frozen.

Peas and lima beans should be washed and drained but left in the pod until ready to cook. Lettuce goes unwashed in the vegetable bin. Remove only the soiled outside leaves and wash as needed.

Berries should be stored in a shallow bowl without washing or hulling except as needed, and corn should be left in the husks until ready to cook. In the new refrigerator-freezer combinations, the refrigerator compartment defrosts automatically. Older, conventional models need manual defrosting every 10 days or two weeks and saucers of hot water can be used to hasten the defrosting. The freezer section in the combination models need only to be defrosted when the frost accumulation interferes with efficient operation. Under normal circumstances, this should be necessary only a few times a year and the instructions given in the service booklet followed.

If you are going on vacation for a short period, you can leave the control at normal setting. Since there will be no door openings, the cost of operation will be low. For periods of a month or more, it's best to remove all food, turn the control off, pull out the plugs. Then wipe the interior dry after defrosting, and leave both doors open.

To keep your refrigerator looking new for many years, the "clean as you go" policy is best. Whenever food is spilled, wipe it up immediately. Wipe off milk bottles and other containers before placing them in the refrigerator.

Because refrigerators are now self-defrosting, homemakers sometimes forget that they are not self-cleaning! Passed during the recent legislative session, the measure would have allowed the first passenger—either white or Negro—who occupied a double seat to decide who could use the other half.

The bill was enacted after a federal court order halted segregated seating on buses and street cars in New Orleans.

Louisiana Street Car Segregation Measure Vetoed by Governor

Baton Rouge, La. — Gov. Earl Long Monday announced his veto of a bill which would let passengers decide whether they wanted to be segregated on buses and street cars.

Jap Women Saved From Tending Rice Pot

Tokyo — Two million Japanese women have been emancipated from tending a hot rice pot. Thousands more are clamoring for the same freedom.

Every Japanese housewife used to be a slave to the steaming pot at least an hour a day. It had been that way for ages.

Then, in December, 1955, Tokyo Shiba Electric company brought out an automatic rice cooker.

Demand for the gadget spread rapidly. Monthly output rose from 3,000 to 150,000 but demand is ahead of this.

The white porcelain cooker costs about $10. The housewife merely washes her rice, fills the pot and turns the switch. Half an hour later, the rice is done and the heat shuts off automatically.

Western Ambassadors Called to Kremlin

Moscow — Western envoys to the Soviet Union were summoned individually today to the foreign ministry.

U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson said he received a communication from the Soviet government. Neither he nor British Ambassador Sir Patrick Reilly, French Ambassador Maurice Dejean, nor West German Minister Hans Kroll would disclose the subject of their visit.

Diplomatic sources indicated the communication had no connection with the Middle East crisis.

Flavor Idea

Give snap beans new flavor: cook sliced scallions (green onions) in butter and add to them.

perature before putting them away. If put away while still hot, they will heat up the refrigerator and make it work twice as hard to cool itself off again.

(A Real Corner-Cutter)

Here's a recipe for a quick, delightful cake which is a corner-cutter, but nobody would ever know it. It's as delicious as it is speedy.

It features mayonnaise in its filling and icing which is literally made-in-a-minute. The cake itself takes a little longer — about 30 minutes.

Icing and Filling

1 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
1 cup sour cream
1 cup sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 package instant vanilla pudding mix (or use other flavor if desired)

Combine mayonnaise or salad dressing, sour cream and sugar. Stir in vanilla. Sprinkle pudding powder, a few spoonfuls at a time, over mayonnaise mixture and stir in. Fold mixture together until thoroughly mixed. Makes enough to fill and frost an 8-inch or 9-inch layer cake.

Unable to move or call out, he waved feebly for help for the next 30 hours, until two tourists who stopped for car repairs saw him. The wreckage in which Biedrzycki lay was not visible from the highway.

Faces Desertion Charge If He Claims $11,654

Milwaukee — A navy man can claim an $11,654 trust fund, but if he appears he probably would face a court martial on desertion charges.

J. James Herrmann, a former Milwaukeean who would be 33 if he is alive, is the sole remaining heir to a trust fund set up by his father, Joseph C., who died in 1939.

The trust fund was supposed to revert to James when he became 21 years old. He was in the navy at the time, during World War II, but he disappeared while stationed in the San Francisco area, and the FBI still is seeking him.

The story came out Monday when Circuit Judge Elmer W. Roller was petitioned to appoint a receiver for the estate. Herrmann's mother made her final report on the trust fund in 1946, and then she too disappeared.

Propose State
Mental Clinic
For Children

Committee Approves
Plan, but Cost
Potential High

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
The first state hospital for children with mental and emotional ailments may be authorized by the next legislature—if lawmakers can find the money. Increasing support for such an institution is shown by tentative approval of a recommendation by a legislature-citizens committee on children's mental health problems, headed by Sen. Kirby Hendee, Milwaukee. The committee is framing its proposal with a knowledge of the fiscal problems likely to face the next state administration. It will ask for a modest appropriation for an experimental center, probably in Madison, to accommodate a relatively small number of distressed children.

Cost Potential
The cost potential is considerable. Estimates of the number of emotionally unstable children who would need the service of a treatment and research clinic vary from 500 to 2,000. Specialists have said that costs of operation might run up to $10,000 a year per child. Hendee recently inspected a number of eastern institutions hailed as performing significant work in the field. He said he came away convinced that Wisconsin needs such a service.

Plan Has Backing
The plan has the backing of such forces as the Wisconsin Association for Mental Health and the Wisconsin State Medical society. There will be some suggestion for the location of the new hospital, if it is authorized, in Milwaukee, but state officials believe it should be established in Madison, near the University of Wisconsin Medical school, the relatively new children's diagnostic center on the university campus and the new Central colony and training school for the mentally defective. The Central colony will be opened next year and will include a special research center into the nature and causes of mental deficiency.

Brillion Ladies Aid Sets Thursday for Annual Ice Cream Social
Brillion — The Ladies Aid of the Friedens Evangelical and Reformed church have set Thursday for the annual ice cream social. A hot beef plate lunch will be served. Mrs. Alice Schulte is in charge of arrangements. The Aug. 7 meeting of the Ladies Aid will be at the home of Mrs. Martha Kruschinski, Appleton. A picnic supper will precede the meeting. In charge of the program will be Mrs. C. A. Pagel. At the last meeting members voted to buy new dishes for the dining hall. Mrs. Earl Schwabe and Mrs. Arthur Krueger were hostesses at the social following the meeting.

Waitress Mistakes
Poisonous Mixture of Ammonia for Lemonade
St. Louis — Glen Parker, a bus driver thirsty upon ending his run yesterday, ordered a glass of lemonade at a grill and was served a poisonous ammonia mixture by mistake. Parker, 30, became ill after two swallows and was taken to City hospital, where his condition was listed as serious. Police quoted a waitress at the grill as saying she mistook a gallon jug of the ammonia mixture for a container of lemonade.

Man Sells Buffalo Herd
To Get Campaign Funds
Wichita, Kan. — A herd of buffalo was sacrificed to politics Monday by Kansas rancher L. S. Jackson. A 2-year-old bull, five cows and a heifer were sold by Jackson on the Wichita livestock market. A commission firm purchased the lot at $19 per hundredweight. The bull weighed 950 pounds, the heifer 520 and the cows averaged 650. Jackson, of El Dorado, said he sold the herd because, "I'm going into politics and will use the money to defray campaign expenses." He didn't say which office he plans to seek. He got about $900 for the buffaloes.

Driver Subject to Fine if Passenger Litters Highways

The vacation travel season is upon us, and Wisconsin highways will again carry their heavy traffic of holiday-bound families. But this year motorists will be noticing some new signs along the highways. They warn him about Wisconsin's litterbug law, passed by the 1957 legislature.

There is nothing new about Wisconsin's law against throwing trash or litter on the highways, but now the law penalizes a motorist who "knowingly permits" someone else in his car to throw debris in the way.

So when Junior asks, "Daddy, what should I do with my candy wrapper?" better tell him to hang onto it. For the cost of that $25 fine, you can buy him 500 candy bars!

Good Sense

Even if there were no law and fine involved, it would just make good sense not to throw waste paper from your automobile. You are a guest in the areas through which you are travelling. You should show the residents of that area the same consideration you would expect them to show as guests in your home or neighborhood.

State law also gives you some protection from those who would press some unwanted waste paper on you in the form of handbills, advertising circulars, campaign pamphlets, and the like. It is illegal to throw any missile, circular or pamphlet at the occupants of any vehicle or to throw or place any missile, circular or pamphlet in or on any vehicle. It makes no difference that the vehicle may be unoccupied, such as a car in a parking lot or at the curb.

The penalty for violating this law is a fine of $10 to $200, up to 30 days in jail, or both fine and jail sentence.

(The State Bar of Wisconsin offers this column to inform, not to advise. Facts may change the application of the law.)

Educators in U. S. Go Beyond English Tongue

Article by Pedagogue Contains Grand Confusion of Number, Other Ornaments

BY JOSEPH ALSOP

Washington — Maybe one ought to go on writing about Goldfine and Adams. But somehow or other, there seems to be more long-range significance in the discovery that America's more progressive educators have now progressed beyond the English language.

One has seen the great moment coming for quite a while. Only consider the syntax of the average presidential press conference. Or consider our government's more formal public pronouncements which are so obviously produced by an ingenious machine, that masticates clichés and used blotting paper into a smooth, uniform mush; homogenizes the mush with oil of self-righteousness; and rolls out the result in press releases, all in one continuous process.

Such signs as these have long foretold the doom of out-of-date English, with all its tiresome apparatus of tense and number, precise word meaning and cumbersome grammar. For long, indeed, the school system has been the only obstacle to the glorious transition from the feudal age of language into a newer, brighter, freer era. But now at last, this inner citadel of dark reaction is falling before the march of progress.

This happy conclusion is based upon prolonged, delighted study of the current controversy about American education. If you read the documents, you find that out-of-date English is still written by the peevish minority who think our schools should teach the three R's, and possibly punish the unfortunate young with just a hint of science. But you also find that quite another language is usually written by the progressives, the advocates of life-adjustment, the influential educators who insist that teachers hardly need to know what they are teaching, so long as they hold masters' degrees in education.

Progressive NEA
A poor reporter, untreated in this bright new tongue, dare not attempt a comprehensive description. Battalions of trained philologists would be required, just to deduce the revolutionary language — principles contained in a single correspondence that has come into this reporter's possession. Straight from an inner sanctum of the National Education association itself, these letters are so progressive in their grammar, word use and in all other ways that they alone prove, for good and all, the NEA's brave claim to be always in the forefront.

But maybe it is not overbold to offer just one sample of the new, life-adjusted English written by our pedagogue-liberators. It is a manifesto against the hard-nosed, three-R-minded minority, which is published in the current "Atlantic Monthly" by Dr. Daniel Tanner, B. Sc., M.S., and Ph. D. Dr. Tanner, who is presently assistant professor of education at San Francisco State college, shows the way for every other teacher of our youth in his fine opening sentence:

"Among the many attacks levied at American public education in recent months, none has been more vociferous than those which strike at teacher preparation and certification."

Just that one word, "levied," is a proof of genius. Old fogies still "level attacks" and only "levy taxes". But "levy" and "level" sound almost the same, so why not use one instead of the other? Here we see one of the finest achievements of life-adjusted English — the abandonment of undemocratic distinctions of word-meaning.

Too Bold Jump
Yet Dr. Tanner was not slothfully content with just one proof of the errors of old-fogism. In his single opening sentence, he also achieved the bold jump from singular to plural, the fine confusion of number, in that haunting phrase, "none has been more vociferous than those". From this starting point, one can already peer into the fully life-adjusted future, when our young will write "they is", "she are" and "we am", and get the pat on the back they will then deserve.

It is tempting to linger longer with Dr. Tanner, for his prose is also capable of many a lyric ornament. Think, for example, of the singing statement, "The student enrolled in a special methods course in each of his major and minor areas." But it would be unfair to all the others who have surpassed Dr. Tanner, to emphasize only his accomplishments. The point about him is that he is splendidly, happily representative of a vast and powerful ademic work on sociology or even politics. You will find a language as far removed from English as Czech is from Russian, and full of such brilliant word inventions as David Reisman's "privatization of women" (which mainly means the tendency of stenographers from small towns to be lonely in big cities.)

Thank God, then, the new day has dawned. Enjoy it while you can, for with television in every home, the written word will soon be going out.

Nasser Crosses His Rubicon

President Gamal Nasser of Egypt, the latest in a long line of Soviet puppets, has made his big move. The coup d'etat in Iraq is equivalent to Eisenhower's encirclement of the Ruhr in the latter stages of World War II — it is a massive blow at the heart of the enemy. If it fails, Nasser is done as the Arabs' fuehrer. If it succeeds, his dream of a pan-Arab empire will be well on its way to coming true, and the Middle East will belong to him, and through him to the Russians.

We recognize the existence of a carefully built-up fiction that the "rebellions" in Lebanon and Iraq were local and spontaneous, and that Nasser's relations with Soviet Russia are those of a "neutral." But it is perfectly obvious that these revolutions took place only because Nasser was there to fan the flames even if he did not strike the match; and that Nasser is where he is only because the Kremlin wills it so. The details of the intrigue that weld this conspiracy together are not important.

It is now clear that Lebanon was both a preparatory step leading to the far more important move against Iraq, and a testing ground for Nasser's technique of infiltration and aggression from within — a technique about which he undoubtedly received some expert coaching from the Russians. Also, it probably was designed to test the West's reactions, particularly those of the United States. If this is true Lebanon may prove to have been a trap for Nasser, since the slowness and apparent unsureness with which Washington reacted to the threat there may well have convinced Nasser that we were pushovers. This is a mistake other dictators have made to their sorrow.

Whether our policy was so contrived or not events have put the United States in a position from which it can turn Nasser's move to our advantage. The Egyptian dictator has stuck his neck out, and with a little moral courage and a will to see things through we can cut it off. How Nasser must have trembled when the U. S. Marines landed on the beaches of Lebanon yesterday! For he must be well aware that the Russians use a man like him as long as he is accomplishing something for them, but that if he fails he can expect them to be suddenly preoccupied elsewhere.

We must not lose Iraq. It is the key to the Middle East geographically, militarily, economically (it practically floats on a sea of oil, and the pipelines from its oil-rich neighbors cross it) and emotionally in that it has been the leader behind which pro-western Arabs could rally. If the Russians stay out, as all recent history indicates they will, it should not take much of a campaign to subdue Nasser's ill-armed troops — the Israelis did it with one arm tied behind their backs. If the Russians do come in, we can then decide whether to accept a world war to save the Middle East.

Gov. Thomson on 'Right to Work'

Gov. Thomson has now verified the impression that he didn't agree or approve when the Republican state convention nearly two months ago proposed legislation to outlaw compulsory membership in labor organizations and asked for a popular referendum on such legislation.

The governor has the right to dispute the proposal of the party organization which helped him to the governorship, and, indeed, the duty to respond to his own convictions and experience.

But there are those among his friends who, while acknowledging those things, may regret the manner he chose to make his position known.

The governor didn't say anything when the proposition was on the floor in Milwaukee. He didn't say anything for six succeeding weeks. He then chose the day following the deadline for the filing of nomination petitions to make a public declaration. The circumstances are such that an unfriendly voter might wonder whether the governor didn't spend that time finding out the direction of the political winds on this volatile question, and then played it safe by saying nothing until it was too late for any other Republican candidate who might have made an issue of it to file against him in the primary.

Problems of the Presidency

The Constitution outlines and somewhat limits the authority of the president, but the history of our republic has been filled with a generally changing attitude toward the chief executive, his powers and his relations with other departments of the federal government. This has come about partly through the crises born of economic travail or international warfare; much of it has come because of differing characteristics and dispositions of the men whom we have elected to the highest office in the land.

The presidential authority under the original Articles of Confederation was slim indeed, for this was the era of the fear of monarchs. Under the Constitution neither Washington nor Adams, the first two presidents, veered very far from a firm attitude toward the separation of powers, and Thomas Jefferson went so far as to discontinue the practice of a presidential appearance before Congress as suggesting undue influence by the president on the lawmaking process. Both Andrew Jackson and Abraham Lincoln were "strong" presidents, but they wielded their power principally through control of their parties, patronage or vague war powers. Woodrow Wilson re-established direct contact with Congress and launched well thought out attempts to control that body through direct appeal and sponsorship of bills, and the pressure brought to bear from voters to whom Wilson turned as a last resort. Wilson, Jackson and Theodore Roosevelt all conceived of the presidency as the only federal office directly responsible to all the people. Franklin D. Roosevelt followed much of the pattern Wilson had established of party leadership both in and out of Congress.

Some critics of President Eisenhower have complained that he has not shown enough leadership to Congress. But Dr. Edward Corwin, a constitutional scholar. McCormick Professor of Jurisprudence at Princeton, has written in a new book that These reflections may be unfair to the governor and his position, but they are inevitable. Mr. Thomson could have chosen another way and absolved himself — by speaking out clearly, quickly and positively.

His flat divergence from the view of the Republican convention delegates also may arouse some queries about the value of such policy declarations in party conventions. It is worth noting that the governor inferentially spoke for other candidates on his ticket. His colleagues, he said without naming them, agree with him. Roland Steinle, the endorsed candidate for senator, already had declined to comment on the question, which tells its own story.

All of this is not to endorse the idea of "right to work" legislation, as the propagandists call the proposals to make the closed shop or union shop contract between management and labor organizations illegal. There are many fair-minded persons who are doubtful about the proposition and Gov. Thomson, among others, has made some good points in rebuttal. Wisconsin can take other avenues to protect the workingman from corrupt unionism — as in the new state law calling for state regulation of employee welfare funds, for example. Wisconsin law also requires that a union shop contract get a two-thirds vote of the employees affected, the governor explained aptly.

President Eisenhower has made the greatest strides toward the "institutionalized presidency . . . thanks in part to Mr. Eisenhower's military experience with the chief of staff work concept, in part to his settled preference for consensus and security as against debate and adventuring, and in part to intervals of bad health."

In his book, The President: Office and Powers, History and Analysis of Practice and Opinions, Dr. Corwin writes that our system's weakness lies in that "presidential leadership is discontinuous, not to say spasmodic . . . (It is) too dependent on the personality of the president rather than the authority of the office . . . (The president is) often insufficiently informed . . . and finally . . . the contact between the president and Congress is most faulty, being, in fact, at the mercy of either's whim."

Dr. Corwin suggests as a possible partial cure of this latter fault an enlarged cabinet selected "from a joint legislative council to be created by the two houses of Congress and to contain its leadings members." But this solution would certainly further destroy the traditional, though not strictly adhered to, philosophy of the separation of powers. While it would not put such a presidential reliance on Congress as do the parliamentary systems of England and France, it would seem to be a move toward the old idea of legislative ascendancy rather than strong presidential leadership. And while the president's patronage powers probably, in the words of President Taft, make for every appointment "nine enemies and one ingrate," such a system as Dr. Corwin suggests would reduce the president's leadership within his own party.

The strength of our constitutional system has been its flexibility. Certainly it is not perfect, but all government, in fact all activities of mankind, must depend to some extent on the characteristics of the men involved.

400 Excursionists in Appleton

79 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of July 19, 1879.

Over 400 excursionists from Green Bay visited this city on Sunday last, per steamers Brooklyn and Arrow we infer, since there appeared to be an air of exclusiveness between the passengers.

We understand the Brooklyn's excursion was under the auspices of the Green Bay Cornet Band and that they netted a handsome sum as the result. The visitors had time to stroll through the town, returning at 4 o'clock.

Baby Medicines With Sweet Taste Lead to Mistakes

From the Pittsburgh, Pa., Sun-Telegram.

Another Pittsburgh area baby recently gleefully munched a handful of baby aspirin tablets with the ungleeful result that he had his tiny stomach pumped, fortunately in time to save him from any unfortunate results.

These cases have been occurring with increasing frequency.

A few months ago, a 3-year-old Pittsburgh boy climbed to the top of a kitchen cupboard in search of candy. He found both candy and baby aspirins. His mother said he chose the aspirins because he prefers them to candy.

Eating poisonous substances or overdoses of pills are the second highest cause of accidental childhood deaths. Medical and safety experts have pleaded with parents not to leave medicine and poisons within baby's reach.

But there's still another answer. If baby aspirins tasted like medicine and less like candy, babies might not be so anxious to eat them.

Vitamins, laxatives and pill manufacturers are now advertising "pineapple," "cherry" and "strawberry" flavors so as to divorce nose-holding from the medicine giving ritual.

tors had time to stroll through the town, returning at 4 o'clock.

The Brooklyn seems to be quite a favorite steamer for excursions, which is not much to be wondered at considering her superior accommodations and the gentlemanly character of her officers.

Carlton Root, Appleton, was named a member of the Wisconsin rifle team to compete in a regional shoot at Camp Douglas, Sept. 2 to 4, according to the Wisconsin Rifle association.

Appleton had a distinguished caller yesterday — His Royal Highness, the King of the Hoboes. He seemed to be satisfied with his reception here, and reciprocated by defining for Appleton the three classes of wanderers — hoboes, tramps and bums; and by adding Appleton to his list of cities in Wisconsin where hoboes were treated with the hospitality commensurate with their exalted station in life.

Mrs. Henry Miller, Appleton, entertained the Four Leaf Clover club at her home. Prizes were won by Mrs. Herman Selig and Mrs. Joseph Schultz.

Herman Ihde, Neenah, was named a member of the state delegation to attend the national corn-hog price meeting at Des Moines, Iowa, July 18.

Make Missile Test Areas More Remote

From the Salt Lake City Desert News.

The protest of Sen. Wallace F. Bennett to Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy about the possible dangers of navy and air force missile tests in the western states, is most timely and merits prompt attention. The senator is disturbed by the announcement that the navy plans to fire its Regulus II and Polaris from the Pacific across three states to the Dugway proving grounds, and also by the statement that air force missiles are being whipped over the heads of citizens from the Texas-New Mexico border to a target "near Salt Lake City."

It isn't difficult to understand the concern that Sen. Bennett and all Utahns must feel, knowing that missiles are being aimed in our general direction from points hundreds of miles away. This concern is aggravated by several failures of various missiles this past year. Add to these hazards the possibility of these missiles passing through established airways, and we have a serious problem on our hands.

There is no doubt that the people of Nevada, New Mexico, Arizona, and Texas, as well as all Utahns, understand the necessity of running these missile tests, but as Sen. Bennett inquires of Secy. McElroy, why cannot test areas be selected in more remote areas?

Proxmire Doing Something to Us

From the Wausau Record-Herald.

Evidence offered by Rep. John Byrnes indicates that Sen. Proxmire has introduced bills which would put the nation an additional $23 billion in debt.

Patrick J. Lucey, state Democratic chairman, has been quoted as saying in connection with that evidence, that it at least proves that Sen. Proxmire is doing something in Washington. "Doing something" is right.

But what he's trying to achieve would, we fear, do something to the people rather than for them.

Under the Capitol Dome

Nelson Fails to Offer Program as Governor

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Madison — Sen. Gaylord Nelson of Madison, the Democratic candidate for governor, has the personality, the physical vigor and the intellectual capacity to be an effective candidate for high office.

Yet he has thus far curiously failed to attract much notice as the only challenger of the incumbent Gov. Vernon W. Thomson for the highest and most powerful office in state politics.

The reason, the attentive observer might conclude, is that he has been strangely tardy in offering a program. He has spoken in generalities. The Republicans have held office too long. They are complacent and tired and unimaginative. They are arrogant and proud and self-confident. A change of political control would bring new men and new ideas into the statehouse.

But what new ideas and new programs? No doubt timing is an essential element of campaign planning, but the time must be nearing when the challenger must start to specify.

COMING?

Nelson may be aware of this weakness in his campaign to date, for in his press conference the other day as he formally filed for the ballot he volunteered that he has a series of specific propositions, with elaboration, coming up.

Some of them he has referred to in vague terms in some of his stump speeches; but others are new.

He said for example that he will make a proposal for a reorganization of the state government. That may contain some appeal to serious minded voters, for it is a fact that comparatively little attention has been given to the functional arrangement of state affairs for a couple of decades. The last real attempt was in 1937, when Phil LaFollette badly stubbed his toe and the Republicans exploited his blunderbuss tactics in the following and successful campaign.

Nelson intends to get some mileage also out of some of the broader "conservation" issues, so-called, that he raised as a legislator during the last term, including the matter of public access to public waters — and notably lakes in the resort sections — and billboard control along the highways. Both are probably calculated to appeal to broad elements of the electorate that would not respond to the routine partisan issues.

He will offer a program of assistance to the aged, he says, although precisely what the public agencies can do about the fact that the life span is lengthening can only be guessed at. Programs in this field have a tedious habit of being gestures, in the way of wordy commissions and interdepartmental agency boards and investigations.

FINANCE

The Democratic candidate will also make a major campaign cry out of the weight of local taxes, the increasing load of local debt, and the approaching crisis in the state-local revenue scheme.

A long line of Republican regimes in the statehouse, he says, have been blind or scared on such matters.

That may well be, although it may be doubted that Nelson's proposal for a tax study will strike the electorate as very exciting or inventive. Presumably Gov. Thomson is as anxious as his rival to find a painless way to solve local taxation problems, and as perplexed about it.

Yet the promise of more specific propositions from the challenger of the incumbent who will run on his record is doubtless encouraging to that voter who wants some basis on which to make a choice. It may also be helpful to Nelson, who must have more than the congenial liberals and Democrats, it is fairly clear, to win his prize.

Chances are that those rather more hard-to-get voters will want from a volunteer for this very important office more than evidence of his appetite for a lease on the governor's mansion and the $20,000 a year salary.

Higher Prices, No More Shopping With Fair Trade

From the Wall Street Journal.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, in a speech in the senate recently, put the case for fair trade quite succinctly. He said fair trade benefits the retailer and the wholesaler, by placing them on an equal footing with all other retailers and wholesalers of branded or trademarked products, whether they happen to be large or small. Also, the margins of profit for both are fixed.

As for the effects on the consumer, Sen. Humphrey had this to say: "Fair trade eliminates the need for shopping around."

And what would happen if there were no more "shopping around?"

The justice department has an answer to that in a survey made in 1954, and we think the housewife who shops around now would like to know what happens when she can't.

The survey shows that drug and appliance prices in "fair trade" areas were 28 per cent higher than drug and appliance prices in places where there wasn't any "fair trade."

How Long Can We Abuse the Railroads

From the Hartford, Conn., Courant.

Nothing would jar the American scene more than for New York's Grand Central Terminal to cease echoing the sounds of distant travelers and commuters on the go. The nearness of such a day has been hinted at by the president of the New York Central Railroad, Alfred Perlman. He would like to keep his trains coming into Grand Central as much as the next railroad president, who happens to be Mr. Alpert of the New Haven line. But both executives are today laying the economic cards on the table for all legislators and the public to see.

Mr. Perlman says the money his line pays in New York taxes goes to help his competitors, in one way or another. The same holds true for the New Haven railroad. In fact Mr. Alpert is contemplating halting mainline and commuter service into New York at New Rochelle. Passengers could take taxis, buses, or limousines into New York City. This would shock even a nation whose love for the automobile has starved the railroads.

Americans need railroads just as much as the airplane and the truck. The railroads had an enormous head start in moving passengers and freight. The railroad baron was once a symbol of invulnerability and financial might. Today, members of our state legislature are plainly having trouble conceiving that he who was once mighty is now sick and feeble.

But the titans of yester years are now anxious pleaders. The country should listen to them, because they point out a malaise in our transportation system that affects us all. The United States can never do without its freight cars. We like to think that some miraculous system of highways would spare us the woes of rapid transit in our cities. And while we affirm our faith in the automobile by encircling and crisscrossing our cities with concrete, some wise voices remind us that no nation should lean so heavily on one form of transportation that the others deteriorate.

America's railroads are deteriorating. And one reason is that they are unfairly taxed. The money collected from the railroads goes into building roads for trucks and runways for airplanes. This kind of tax abuse is draining the life blood from many railroad lines. That the New York Central and the New Haven are thinking of pulling out of Grand Central shows how severe the tax punishment is getting.

Jughead Dummy Serves As Object Lesson in Safe Tractor Operation

Unusual Demonstration at Seymour Fair

A full sized tractor will tip over sideways and backwards in a demonstration at the county fair in Seymour the afternoon of July 18. This tractor, equipped by the college of agriculture extension service, has been built into a complete unit with a truck. The entire exhibit it rolls to the fairgrounds to demonstrate to the farmers how easily tractors tip over.

The first demonstration shows the tractor tipping over backwards on level ground when the hitch is too high. A low hitch demonstrates the stability of the tractor as the wheels spin but the tractor does not tip.

With a unique arrangement for driving the tractor with lines at a safe distance, the demonstrators drive the tractor in a circle and roll it over on its side when one brake is suddenly set. This is a spectacular tip-over.

Straw Dummy

Jughead, a straw-stuffed dummy with a glass head, rides the tractor and expresses in terms of Mortimer Snerd his ability to defy the laws of gravity.

Jughead smashes his gallon glass head on the first tip-over, and is out of action for the rest of the day.

The most spectacular part of the demonstration is Jughead's brother, another dummy, getting caught in a power-take-off shaft and being torn to pieces.

The entire demonstration is spectacular and very practical, as many farm lives are lost in Wisconsin each year because of fatal tractor accidents. This demonstration shows how these accidents can happen and how they can be prevented.

Tractor Toll

Tractor accidents claimed the lives of 27 farm people in Wisconsin in 1957. Ten of these deaths happened when the tractor tipped over and the victim was pinned beneath the overturned machine. Three of these 10 were boys — one, 11 years old and two, 15 years old. Seven were farmers whose ages ranged from 33 to 81.

Although the biggest single factor in these tractor fatalities was tipping, there are other serious hazards to be considered. Extra passengers on tractors, for example, is extremely dangerous because when the tractor operator sets the brakes suddenly, the extra rider, be he child or adult, is in a hazardous position. Three children (ages 4, 5 and 7) were killed in 1957 because they rode on the tractor as extra passengers.

Of the other tractor fatalities in 1957, five were run over by the tractor, three were crushed between the tractor and another object, one cranked a tractor in gear, and one was caught in the power-take-off shaft.

Of the 27 fatal tractor accident victims, nine were children between 1 and 15 years of age. The other 18 were adult farmers.

Typical FFA Youth Enters 3 Projects

Seymour — What does Fair Week mean to an FFA member? To help answer this question, a typical member was chosen.

Ronald Nelson is an active member and one of his activities includes showing his livestock and products at the fair. His list of entries includes purebred Chester White hogs, field corn and poultry.

Preparation of course starts long before fair week. Ronald includes exhibiting at the fair in his annual program plans. Selection of the animals to be shown from his fine herd of purebred Chester White Hogs must be done well ahead of time. This year he plans on showing his herd sire purchased last year at the Calumet County Swine Breeders sale.

His poultry entry is selected from his broiler enterprise, which consists of about 200 broilers raised each summer, and dressing them for sale to special customers.

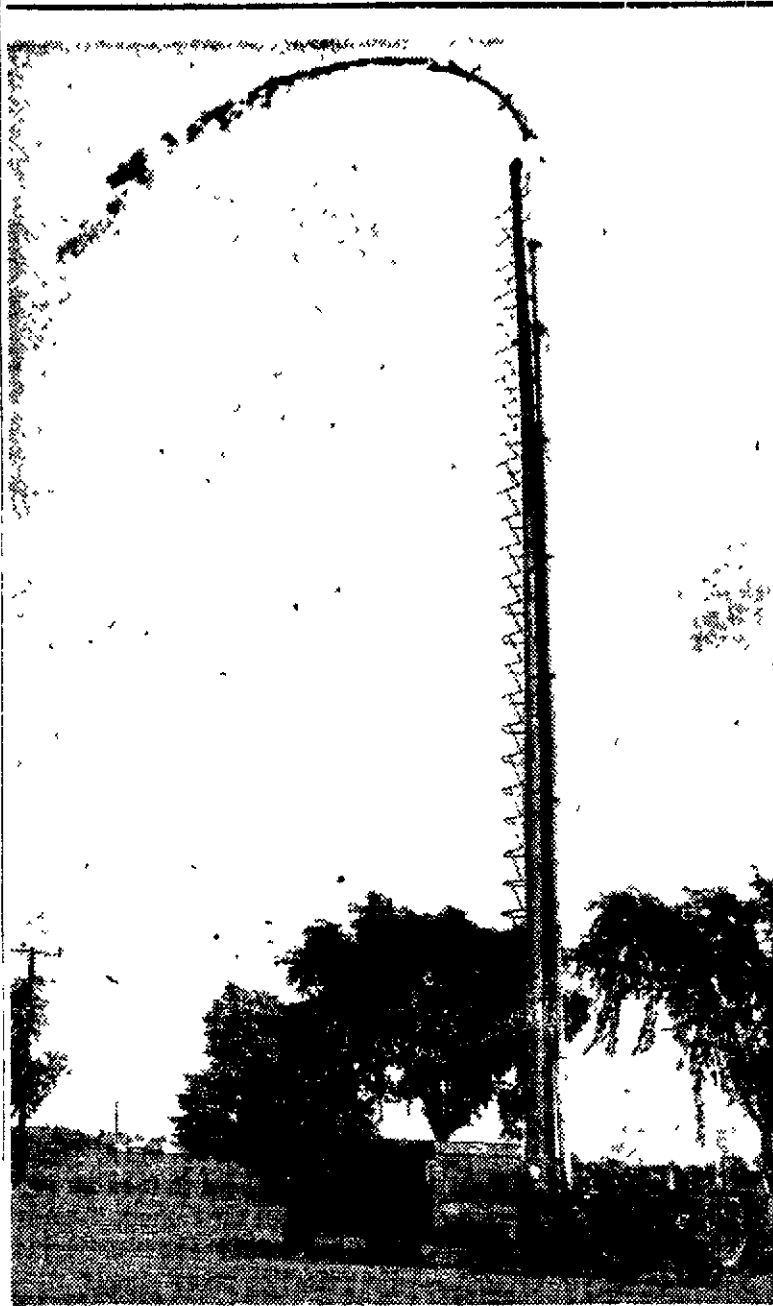

Although Ronald has a dairy enterprise and has shown dairy animals he does not plan on showing any this year.

Along with the work at fair time the boys also have time for pleasure. The 50-cent fair entry fee is really a season pass. In addition to free entry, the young people are treated to a free grandstand program.

Fox River Tractor Company Testing New Silage Blower

An 88-foot telephone pole seems to have no obvious purpose just standing in a field near the intersection of Highways 10 and 41.

It's important, however, to Appleton's Fox River Tractor company, since it supports a glistening 81-foot pipe, topped by a curved elbow, an accessory piece for testing the company's most recent silage blower, used to fill silos.

The short-hopper blower, designed by Wilmer E. Witt, assistant chief engineer of the tractor company, can store 50 to 60 tons of chopped material an hour. The blower's conveyor feeds the material into its fan, which blows it up the pipe. Although most silos in this

Herdsman Test Assures Clean Barns at Fair

Exhibitors Display Best Milk Promotion Through Near Stalls

Both exhibitors and spectators like to see neat, clean animals not only in the show ring but in the barns as well. The herdsman award is designed to encourage 4-H and FFA members not only to prepare a neat livestock exhibit but to keep it neat and clean throughout the entire fair.

The herdsman award is very important to the 4-H and FFA members as they realize that the appearance of the dairy barn and the animals in it do cast a reflection on the quality of milk that is produced in this area.

A neat barn and its animals, kept in the same manner is possibly one of the best methods to promote the use of dairy products.

Points Control Vegetable Judging at County Fair

BY HAROLD TECH
Supt. of Crops and Garden Exhibits

In the judging of vegetables, several main points are considered before the placement of the ribbons takes place.

Having determined the number of specimens necessary and making sure of the proper classification, the judges consider the following points:

- Shape: Shape or form is quite important. The desirable shape is the key to the selection.
- Size: Unusual size frequently indicates poor quality. Usually, storage size is the basis which most judges use unless otherwise stated on the premium list. Extremely large or small specimens are frowned upon by most judges.
- Color: The importance of color, like form, varies a great deal with the vegetable itself. Usually the higher or deeper colored sample is given preference. However, high color due to maturity must at times be sacrificed in order that the sample may not be overmature when judged.
- No Blemishes: Diseased areas, spots, and mechanical and insect damage are carefully noted by the judge and those samples put aside or graded down. The rule is absolute freedom from all blemishes.
- Maturity: Specimens should be in prime condition for use at the time of judging. Maturity in cabbage is judged by firmness. The green classes which show color other than green are overmature. The rind of the summer squash should be fairly easily punctured with thumbnail. Pie pumpkins should have a fairly hard rind.
- Quality: In many vegetables, quality is determined by external appearance, but in some cases, the judges use special tests to determine quality. Frequently they use these tests merely to verify his opinion of the external appearance of the specimen.

Now Is Time To Check for Corn Borers

But Weather Has Not Been Good
For Flight of Moths

BY JOHN E. POWERS
Outagamie County Agent

Good corn weather is usually good corn borer weather. Climatic conditions play an important part in keeping the corn borer under control. Less damage from the corn borer will result if the season is slow and unsuited for corn growth.

This year, some of the heaviest corn borer moth flight was early enough in June to have small borers present in southern Wisconsin during the last week of June. However, there has been very little moth flight for several weeks. Therefore, whatever egg laying that will be done and even hatching has now been completed. It is doubtful whether much treatment of borers in field corn will be necessary. Farmers should examine the most mature corn plantings for recent leaf feeding in the whorl of the corn plant. The percentage of plants showing recent leaf feeding determines whether chemical treatment will pay.

Leaf feeding counts should be made in Outagamie county between July 15 and July 20. It is at this time that feeding should take place if there are any borers present. If the extended corn plant height is 36 inches, then 90 per cent of the plants need to show recent leaf feeding before treatment is warranted.

If the corn gets taller, the percentage of plants showing damage is smaller before treatment is necessary. For 50 inch corn, 60 per cent of the plants should show evidence of damage and if the corn is 65 inches tall, 35 per cent will show damage.

Small Holes
The extended corn height is the average distance from the ground to the tip of the longest leaf when it is held upright. The characteristic leaf feeding of the corn borer is small punctured holes all around the areas of the whorl with small leaf chewing.

If it is going to pay to spray at all, the spray must be applied at the proper time before the corn borer works his way down the corn stalk. For Outagamie county, this time should occur between July 15 and July 20. Farmers should check their fields now for evidence of leaf feeding to determine whether spraying will be worthwhile. If any farmer is in doubt, help can be obtained by contacting the county agent's office.

Leathercraft Growing as 4-H Project

Articles have been made from leather for over 5,000 years but last year was the first time the Outagamie county 4-Hers took the leathercraft project. Over 70 4-H members have taken leathercraft as a project this year and are making billfolds, coin purses, halters and other useful articles.

Mrs. Carlton Sievert, leathercraft leader and superintendent of the leathercraft department, at the fair, states that a number of changes have been made in the craft exhibits. This year, the first, second and third-year members each enter their articles in separate divisions. First-year exhibitors can stamp a design on their articles, second-year members can tool their exhibits, and third-year members, who are more advanced, can carve or tool their exhibits. All craft articles must be cut out by the exhibitor, no pre-cut articles are allowed.

Leathercraft offers a great deal. It is a good hobby, a project that can be completed during the winter months, and is open to both rural and urban boys and girls.

The Northside Kiwanis club of Appleton has helped 4-H members in the county by purchasing a complete leathercraft kit.

Future Farmers Enter Projects

Seymour — Members of the Seymour FFA chapter will be taking time out from their busy summer schedules to participate in the Outagamie County fair Thursday through Sunday.

As a part of their farming projects, some of the boys will enter into competition with others carrying similar projects. Their entries have been made in the Junior Fair which is open to all 4-H, FFA, and FFA members carrying the project during the current year.

At the monthly meeting held recently, entry blanks were filled out and sent in. Showing swine will be Charles Miller, Mark Daoust, Gerald Brusewitz and John Brownson. Dairy exhibitors will be Norman Steffens, Richard Landwehr, Ronald Landwehr and Gerald Vander Zanden. Poultry projects will be entered by Ronald Nelson, Allen Vanden Heuvel and Joseph Lom. Charles Miller will enter the beef cattle competition. Gerald Brusewitz, John Brownson, Allen Vanden Heuvel, Peter Tubbs, Dennis Schultz, Robert Zibell, Ralph Zibell and Byron Wendt will enter field crops.
